On 7 June 2002, The Standard Bank of South Africa Limited (the Issuer) established a ZAR10 000 000 000 Domestic Medium Term Note Programme (the Programme) pursuant to a programme memorandum dated 7 June 2002, as amended and restated on 11 September 2003, 14 October 2004, 6 December 2006, 29 October 2008, 1 December 2010 and 20 August 2012 (the Previous Programme Memoranda) in terms of which the issuer may issue notes (the Notes) from time to time. On 31 January 2005, the aggregate nominal amount of the Programme was increased to ZAR20 000 000 000 and on 14 October 2005, to ZAR40 000 000 000. On 4 March 2010 the aggregate nominal amount of the Programme was increased to ZAR60 000 000 000. On 21 November 2012 the aggregate nominal amount of the Programme was increased to ZAR90 000 000 000. This Programme Memorandum (the Programme Memorandum) will apply to all Notes issued under the Programme on or after 19 September 2013 (the Programme Date) and will in respect of such Notes supersede and replace the Previous Programme Memoranda in their entirety. Notes issued under the Programme on or after the Programme Date are subject to the provisions described herein. This Programme Memorandum does not affect any Notes issued before the Programme Date and the relevant Previous Programme Memoranda will continue to apply to such Notes, as applicable.

Capitalised terms used in this Programme Memorandum are defined in the section of this Programme Memorandum headed "Terms and Conditions of the Notes" (the Terms and Conditions), unless separately defined, and/or in relation to a Tranche of Notes, in the Applicable Pricing Supplement.

Notes to be issued under the Programme may comprise (i) senior notes (the Senior Notes), and/or (ii) Notes which are subordinated to the Senior Notes (the Subordinated Notes). A Tranche of Notes may comprise, without limitation, Fixed Rate Notes, Floating Rate Notes, Mixed Rate Notes, Zero Coupon Notes and/or such combination of the foregoing Notes and/or such other type of Notes as may be determined by the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s) and specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement. Notes will be issued in individual Tranches which, together with other Tranches, may form a Series of Notes. A Tranche of Notes will be issued on, and subject to, the Terms and Conditions, as replaced, amended and/or supplemented by the terms and conditions of that Tranche of Notes set out in the Applicable Pricing Supplement.

This Programme Memorandum has been approved by the JSE. A Tranche of Notes may be listed on the JSE or on such other or additional Financial Exchange(s) as may be selected by the Issuer and the relevant Dealer (as defined below), subject to all Applicable Laws. Unlisted Notes may also be issued under the Programme. Unlisted Notes are not regulated by the JSE. The Applicable Pricing Supplement relating to a Tranche of Notes which is to be listed on the JSE will specify the relevant platform or sub-market of the JSE on which such Tranche of Notes is to be listed and will be delivered to the JSE and the Central Depository, before the Issue Date. A Tranche of Notes listed on the JSE may be traded by or through members of the JSE from the date specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement, in accordance with the Applicable Procedures. The settlement of trades on the JSE will take place in accordance with the electronic settlement procedures of the JSE and the Central Depository for all trades done through the JSE. The placement of a Tranche of unlisted Notes may (at the sole discretion of the Issuer) be reported through the JSE reporting system, in which event the settlement of trades in such Notes will take place in accordance with the electronic settlement procedures of the JSE and the Central Depository. The settlement and redemption procedures for a Tranche of Notes listed on any Financial Exchange (other than or in addition to the JSE) will be specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement.

The Notes may be issued on a continuing basis and be placed by one or more of the Dealers specified under the section headed "Summary of Programme" and any additional Dealer appointed under the Programme from time to time by the Issuer, which appointment may be for a specific issue or on an ongoing basis. References in this Programme Memorandum to the relevant Dealer shall, in the case of Notes being (or intended to be) placed by more than one Dealer, be to all Dealers agreeing to place such Notes.

As at the Programme Date, the Programme has not been rated by any rating agency. After the Programme Date, the Programme and/or any Notes issued under the Programme may be rated by a rating agency on a national or international scale basis. The rating assigned to the Issuer and/or the Programme and/or the Notes, as the case may be, as well as the rating agency(ies) which assigned such rating(s), will be specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement and made available on the Issuer's website at www.standardbank.co.za.

The Issuer may agree with any Dealer that Notes may be issued in a form not contemplated by the Terms and Conditions of the Notes herein, in which event a supplementary Programme Memorandum, if appropriate, will be made available, which will describe the effect of the agreement reached in relation to such Notes.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF THE PROGRAMME

Capitalised terms used in this section headed "General Description of the Programme" shall have the same meaning as defined in the Terms and Conditions, unless they are defined in this section or this is clearly inappropriate from the context.

Under the Programme, the Issuer may from time to time issue Notes denominated in the currency specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement. The applicable terms of any Notes will be set out in the Terms and Conditions incorporated by reference into the Notes, as modified and supplemented by the Applicable Pricing Supplement relating to the Notes and any supplementary Programme Memorandum. A summary of the Programme and the Terms and Conditions appears in the section of this Programme Memorandum headed "Summary of the Programme".

As at the Programme Date, the Programme Amount is ZAR90 000 000 000 (or its equivalent in such other currency or currencies as Notes are issued). This Programme Memorandum will only apply to Notes issued under the Programme in an aggregate Nominal Amount Outstanding which does not exceed the Programme Amount, unless such amount is increased as set out below. For the purpose of calculating the aggregate Nominal Amount of Notes Outstanding issued under the Programme from time to time:

- (a) the ZAR equivalent of Notes denominated in another currency shall be determined at or about the time at which an agreement is reached for the issue of such Notes as between the Issuer and the relevant Dealer(s) on the basis of the spot rate at such time for the sale of such ZAR amount against the purchase of such currency or unit of account in the Johannesburg inter-bank foreign exchange markets, as quoted by the Issuer or by any leading bank selected by the Issuer;
- (b) the amount of Indexed Notes and Partly Paid Notes shall be calculated by reference to the original nominal amount of such Notes (and, in the case of Partly Paid Notes, regardless of the subscription price paid); and
- (c) the amount of Zero Coupon Notes and Other Notes issued at a discount or premium shall be calculated by reference to the Nominal Amount received by the Issuer for the relevant issue.

In the event that the Issuer issues unlisted Notes, or any Notes are listed on any exchange other than the JSE, the Issuer shall, by no later than the last day of the month of such issue, inform the JSE in writing of the nominal amount and scheduled maturity date in respect of such Notes.

From time to time, the Issuer may wish to increase the Programme Amount. Subject to the Applicable Procedures, the Programme Agreement and all Applicable Laws, the Issuer may, without the consent of Noteholders, increase the Programme Amount by delivering notice thereof to (i) the JSE Debt Sponsor, (ii) Noteholders, (iii) the relevant Financial Exchange(s), (iv) the Transfer, Paying and Calculation Agents, and (v) the Arranger and (vi) the Dealers in accordance with Condition 18 (Notices) of the Terms and Conditions and the Applicable Procedures. Upon such notices being given, all references in the Programme Memorandum or any other agreement, deed or document in relation to the Programme, to the Programme Amount, shall be, and shall be deemed to be, references to the increased Programme Amount.

To the extent that Notes may be listed on the JSE, the JSE's approval of the listing of any Notes is not to be taken in any way as an indication of the merits of the Issuer or the Notes. The JSE has not verified the accuracy and truth of the contents of the Programme and to the extent permitted by law, the JSE will not be liable for any claim of whatsoever kind.

Claims against the BESA Guarantee Fund Trust and/or the JSE Guarantee Fund, as the case may be, may only be made in respect of trading in Notes listed on the JSE and in accordance with the rules of the BESA Guarantee Fund Trust and/or the JSE Guarantee Fund, as the case may be. Unlisted Notes are not regulated by the JSE.

Investing in the Notes involves certain risks (see the section of this Programme Memorandum headed "Risk Factors").

Status of the Subordinated Notes	Subordinated Notes will constitute direct, unsecured and subordinated obligations of the Issuer, all as described in Condition 5.2 (Status of the Subordinated Notes) and the Applicable Pricing Supplement.
Taxation	A summary of the applicable tax legislation in respect of the Notes, as at the Programme Date, is set out in the section of this Programme Memorandum headed " South African Taxation ". The summary does not constitute tax advice. Potential investors in the Notes should consult their own professional advisers as to the potential tax consequences of, and their tax positions in respect of, an investment in the Notes.
Terms and Conditions	The Terms and Conditions of the Notes are set out in the section of this Programme Memorandum headed " Terms and Conditions of the Notes ".
Withholding Tax	As at the Programme Date all payments in respect of the Notes will be made without withholding or deduction for or on account of taxes levied in South Africa. In the event that certain withholding tax or such other deduction is required by Applicable Law, then the Issuer will, subject to the Issuer's rights to redeem Notes following a Tax Event and/or Change in Law pursuant to Condition 9.2 (Redemption following the occurrence of a Tax Event and/or Change in Law) (and subject to certain exceptions as provided in Condition 11 (Taxation) of the Terms and Conditions), pay such additional amounts as shall be necessary in order that the net amounts received by the Noteholders after such withholding or deduction shall equal the respective amounts of principal and interest which would otherwise have been receivable in respect of the Notes in the absence of such withholding or deduction.

RISK FACTORS

The Issuer believes that the factors outlined below may affect its ability to fulfil its obligations under the Notes. All of these factors are contingencies which may or may not occur and the Issuer is not in a position to express a view on the likelihood of any such contingency occurring.

In addition, factors which are material for the purpose of assessing the market risks associated with the Notes are also described below.

The Issuer believes that the factors described below represent the principal risks inherent in investing in the Notes, but the inability of the Issuer to pay interest, principal or other amounts on or in connection with any Notes may occur for other reasons which may not be considered significant risks by the Issuer based on information currently available to it, or which it may not currently be able to anticipate. Accordingly, the Issuer does not represent that the statements below regarding the risks of holding any Notes are exhaustive.

Prospective investors should also read the detailed information set out elsewhere in this Programme Memorandum to reach their own views prior to making any investment decision. The information given below is as at the date of this Programme Memorandum.

Capitalised terms used herein and not otherwise defined shall bear the meanings ascribed to them in "Terms and Conditions of the Notes".

Factors that may affect the Issuer's ability to fulfil its obligations under Notes issued under the Programme

Risks relating to the Issuer

The investments, business, profitability and results of operations of the Issuer may be adversely affected as a result of the difficult conditions in the financial markets.

Global conditions

The global economy remains fragile after many recovery and stimulus attempts since the start of the global economic crisis in 2008. Global economic growth rates continue to be low in the absence of strong demand from developed economies. A significant decline in the economic growth of any of South Africa's major trading partners, such as the European Union (South Africa's largest export market), could have a material adverse impact on South Africa's balance of trade and adversely affect South Africa's economic growth. A renewed decline in demand for imports from the European Union could have a material adverse effect on South African exports and its economic growth. In addition to risks stemming from the European Union, a rapid slowdown in the growth of Chinese gross domestic product, or a renewed contraction in the economy of the United States could negatively impact South Africa's economic outlook. These negative effects could feed through to the South African economy through trade and financial linkages, declining commodity prices, as well as a deterioration in global risk appetite which may see significant capital outflows from emerging economies.

South African conditions

The Issuer's business is significantly focused on South Africa and therefore adverse changes affecting the South African economy are likely to have an adverse impact on the Issuer's financial condition and results of its operations. No assurance can be given that a further economic downturn or financial crisis will not occur, or that the Issuer would be able to sustain its current performance levels if such events or circumstances affecting the South African economy were to occur.

South Africa's credit rating has been downgraded by rating agencies which cite labour unrest and uncertain policy decisions in key sectors of the economy as negatively impacting investor confidence. Other key risks the South African economy faces are contracting demand from developed economies, lower commodity prices and a reduction in local demand as a result of higher utility prices and indirect taxes.

The domestic market has shown limited signs of recovery. The Issuer expects the trend of slow economic growth to continue. The volatility of the South African Rand is generally viewed as having a negative impact on both domestic and foreign investment.

South African conditions specific to the banking sector

The Issuer's outlook for the South African economy remains cautious. The Issuer expects the banking environment to continue to be shaped by the pressures of heightened competition, increased regulation and a slow domestic economy.

Consumers' debt-to-income levels remain high. Efforts by consumers to deleverage could reduce growth in loans and advances and associated recoveries. In this environment, the risk of larger impairments could increase. Asset growth could be muted, resulting in pressure on revenues.

The banking industry is facing the combined challenge of significant regulatory requirements and the continued deterioration in the global macroeconomic environment. Investment banking business models, particularly those that rely on capital markets and trading that proved successful in the past are being challenged in the face of the structural changes that have, and will continue, to impact the industry. At the same time, the growth in corporate banking revenues across Africa reflects an underlying shift from complex and long-dated structured investment banking transactions to higher levels of simple corporate banking to which the Issuer must align its business model. The Issuer will continue to be focused on capital consumption and the impact that Basel III will have on its business in the next four years.

Failures in risk management

The Issuer, in common with other banks in South Africa and elsewhere, is exposed to commercial and market risks in its ordinary course of business, the most significant of which are credit risk, market risk, liquidity risk, interest rate risk and operational risk, with credit risk being the largest.

Whilst the Issuer believes that it has implemented appropriate policies, systems and processes to control and mitigate these risks, investors should note that any failure to control these risks adequately could have an adverse effect on the financial condition and reputation of the Issuer.

Credit Risk

The Issuer's businesses are subject to inherent risks regarding borrower credit quality and the recoverability of loans and amounts due from counterparties. Changes in the credit quality of the Issuer's borrowers and counterparties or arising from systemic risk in the financial systems could reduce the value of the Issuer's assets, and require increased provisions for bad and doubtful debts.

During 2012, the South African market experienced slow economic growth as a result of contracting demand from developed economies. Labour unrest and violent strikes in the mining and agricultural sectors contributed to a downgrade of the South African sovereign credit ratings. Consumers also felt the consequences of rising inflation on the back of increased oil, food and electricity prices. As at 31 December 2012, non-performing loans represented 4.8 per cent. of the Personal and Business Banking SA division's gross loans and advances (compared with 6.1 per cent. as at 31 December 2011). In addition, in the Issuer's Corporate and Investment Banking SA division, non-performing loans represented 1.5 per cent. of Corporate and Investment Banking SA's gross loans and advances (compared with 0.6 per cent. as at 31 December 2011). For the year ended 31 December 2012 the Issuer's credit impairment charges increased by 25.1 per cent. to R5.8 billion and the credit loss ratio increased to 0.89 per cent. (0.8 per cent. for the year ended 31 December 2011).

Credit impairments increased in both the retail and corporate sectors. Higher specific impairments were raised within mortgage lending in South Africa. During 2012, a review of specific and portfolio impairment methodologies in mortgage loans was undertaken. A consequence of this was that more risk is now categorised under specific impairments rather than under portfolio impairments. This resulted in a release of R748 million from portfolio impairments and an increase of a similar amount under specific impairments. The impairment charge in personal unsecured lending (excluding card) increased by R686 million.

This was a result of the increased incidence of default in the personal term loans book (loans to lower-income customers known as the inclusive banking book) and strong growth in the middle market segment. Scorecard thresholds for this type of lending have been raised and there has consequently been very little growth in the banking book since June 2012.

A significant proportion of the Issuer's core banking business has been, and is expected to continue to be, loans to retail customers. As at 31 December 2012, 43 per cent. of the Issuer's loan portfolio consisted of mortgage loans of which 5.3 per cent. were non-performing loans (compared to 6.8 per cent. as at 31 December 2011). As at 31 December 2012, 3.5 per cent. of the Issuer's loan portfolio consisted of card debtors, of which 3.7 per cent. were classified as non-performing (compared to 5.6 per cent. as at 31 December 2011).

Since 2010, the Issuer has grown its retail unsecured lending book, lending mainly to its own transactional banking customers, aiming to ensure that customers are able to manage their debt, pricing correctly for the loans, and at the same time having a strong collections capability.

Many factors affect the ability of the Issuer's customers to repay their loans. Some of these factors, including adverse changes in consumer confidence levels due to local, national and global factors, consumer spending, bankruptcy rates, and increased market volatility, might be difficult to anticipate and are completely outside of the Issuer's control. The Issuer conducts stress tests on its portfolios to identify the key factors driving change in the credit risk tendency, to anticipate possible future outcomes, and to implement necessary actions to constrain risk.

The Issuer continues to apply appropriate and responsible lending criteria to ensure prudent lending practices in line with anticipated economic conditions and risk appetite. If macroeconomic conditions in South Africa deteriorate, for example, to levels which existed in 2010, there can be no assurance that the rate of the Issuer's non-performing loans and credit impairments will not increase which, in turn, could have an adverse effect on the Issuer's financial condition or results of operations.

Market Risk

The Issuer's businesses are inherently subject to the risk of market fluctuations. In particular, the Issuer's activities are subject to interest rate, foreign exchange, bond price, equity price and commodity price risks. Changes in interest rate levels, yield curves and spreads may affect the interest rate margin realised between lending and borrowing costs. The performance of financial markets may cause changes in the value of the Issuer's investment and trading portfolios. The Issuer has implemented risk management methods to mitigate and control these and other market risks to which the Issuer is exposed. Stress testing provides an indication of the potential losses that could occur under extreme market conditions and where longer holding periods may be required to exit positions. However, it is difficult to predict with accuracy changes in economic or market conditions and to anticipate the effects that such changes could have on the Issuer's financial performance.

Liquidity Risk

The Issuer's primary funding sources are in the form of deposits across a spectrum of retail and wholesale clients, as well as long-term capital and loan markets. The banking sector in South Africa is characterised by certain structural features, such as a low discretionary savings rate in general and a high percentage of these are captured by institutions such as pension funds, provident funds and providers of asset management services. A portion of these savings translate into institutional funding for the banking system that comprise wholesale funding from financial institutions across a range of deposits, loans and financial instruments. These deposits have a different liquidity profile to retail deposits. As a result, the Issuer, along with other banks in South Africa, has a higher reliance on wholesale funding than retail deposits, especially compared to peers in other emerging markets. According to the SARB BA 900 Filings as at 31 December 2012, retail deposits comprised 19 per cent. of the total funding-related liabilities of the Bank.

Wholesale funding sourced by the Issuer is usually of a short-to-medium term on a contractual basis, is more expensive than retail deposits, and is sourced from a small number of depositors (principally fund managers). As at 31 December 2012, 81 per cent. of the Bank's deposit and current accounts had a contractual maturity date of 12 months or less or were repayable on demand. As at 31 December 2012, the largest single depositor accounted for 2.1 per cent. of total deposits (restated as 3.2 per cent. in the prior financial year) and the top 10 depositors accounted for 10.3 per cent. of total deposits (restated as 11.8 per cent. in the prior financial year).

If a substantial portion of the Issuer's depositors withdraw their demand deposits or do not roll over their term deposits upon maturity, the Issuer may need to seek more expensive sources of funding to meet its funding requirements, and no assurance can be made that the Issuer will be able to obtain additional funding on commercially reasonable terms as and when required or at all. The Issuer's inability to refinance or replace such deposits with alternative funding could adversely affect the Issuer's liquidity and financial condition.

Disruptions, uncertainty or volatility in the capital and credit markets may limit the Issuer's ability to refinance maturing liabilities with long-term funding and increase the cost of such funding. The availability to the Issuer of any additional financing it may need will depend on a variety of factors, such as market conditions, the availability of credit generally and to borrowers in the financial services industry specifically, and the Issuer's financial condition, credit ratings and credit capacity, as well as the possibility that customers or lenders could develop a negative perception of the Issuer's financial prospects if, for example, the Issuer incurs large losses, experiences significant deposit outflows or if the level of the Issuer's business activity decreases.

Although the Issuer believes that its level of access to domestic and international inter-bank and capital markets and its liquidity risk management policy allow and will continue to allow the Issuer to meet its short-term and long-term liquidity needs, any maturity mismatches may have a material adverse impact on its financial condition and results of operations. Furthermore, there can be no assurance that the Issuer will be successful in obtaining additional sources of funds on acceptable terms or at all.

Operational Risk

The Issuer's businesses are subject to operational risk, and losses can result from inadequate or failed internal processes, documentation, people, systems, fraud, equipment failures, natural disasters or the failure of external systems, including those of the Issuer's suppliers and counterparties. The Issuer's systems, processes and internal controls are designed to ensure that the operational risks associated with its activities are appropriately monitored and controlled. In addition, business resumption and disaster recovery processes have been implemented to mitigate operational risks inherent in the Issuer's business. However, operational risk may have an adverse effect on the Issuer's financial condition and results of operations. Notwithstanding anything in this risk factor, this risk factor should not be taken as implying that the Issuer will be unable to comply with its obligations as a company with securities admitted to the Official List.

Concentration risk

Concentration risk is the risk of loss to the Issuer as a result of excessive build-up of exposure to a specific counterparty or counterparty group, an industry, market, product, financial instrument or type of security, a country or geography, or a maturity.

The Issuer's portfolio contains a concentration of exposure to the South African Government, through prudential requirements and direct lending. The Issuer manages this exposure within a clearly defined risk appetite framework and also stress tests the portfolio against weaknesses and downgrades of the Government.

The Issuer currently holds the majority market share in South African home loans (Source: SARB BA900, 31 December 2012), and these exposures represent a credit concentration in the Issuer's portfolio. The Issuer manages this exposure within a clearly defined risk appetite framework and also stress tests the portfolio against various weaknesses in the economy which could negatively impact consumer credit-worthiness and the repayment of home loans.

Due to exchange control and other financial regulations in South Africa, individuals and corporates are restricted from making deposits outside of South Africa. This has led to large deposits in the banks in South Africa being made by corporates and in particular by South African fund managers. These fund managers are the largest depositors in the South African banking market, making deposits on behalf of their customers to benefit from higher interest rates available to wholesale depositors. The Issuer, in line with other South African banks, obtains a large percentage of its deposits from such fund managers. Legislation in South Africa restricts the exposure that fund managers can have to an individual bank, so fund managers are required to spread their deposits amongst the banks. Exchange controls promote depositor concentration risk and any failure by the Issuer to effectively manage risk concentrations could have an adverse effect on the Issuer's business, results of operations and financial condition.

The Issuer's risk management policies and procedures may not have identified or anticipated all potential risk exposures

The Issuer has devoted significant resources to developing its risk management policies and procedures, particularly in connection with credit, market, liquidity, interest rate and operational risks, and expects to continue to do so in the future. Nonetheless, its risk management techniques may not be fully effective in mitigating its risk exposure in all market environments or against all types of risk, including risks that are unidentified or unanticipated. Some of the Issuer's methods of managing risk are based upon its use of observed historical market behaviour. As a result, these methods may not predict future risk exposures, which could be greater than historical measures indicate. Other risk management methods depend upon evaluation of information regarding the markets in which the Issuer operates, its clients or other matters that are publicly available or otherwise accessible by the Issuer. This information may not be accurate in all cases, complete, up-to-date or properly evaluated. Any failure arising out of the Issuer's risk management techniques may have an adverse effect on its results of operations and financial condition.

A downgrade in the Issuer's credit ratings or the credit rating of South Africa could have an adverse effect on the Issuer's access to liquidity sources and funding costs

The Issuer's credit ratings affect the cost and other terms upon which the Issuer is able to obtain funding. Rating agencies regularly evaluate the Issuer and their ratings of its long-term debt are based on a number of factors, including capital adequacy levels, quality of earnings, credit exposure, the risk management framework and funding diversification. These parameters and their possible impact on the Bank's credit rating are monitored closely and incorporated into its liquidity risk management and contingency planning considerations.

As of the date of this Programme Memorandum, the Issuer's short and long-term foreign currency deposit rating was assessed by Moody's Investors Service Cyprus Limited as P-2 and Baa1, respectively, with a negative outlook and the Issuer's short and long-term foreign currency Issuer default rating was assessed by Fitch Ratings Limited as F3 and BBB, respectively, with a stable outlook.

A downgrade of the Issuer's credit ratings, or being placed on a negative ratings watch, may increase its cost of borrowing, limit its ability to raise capital and adversely affect its results of operations. A downgrade or potential downgrade of the South African sovereign rating or a change in rating agency methodologies relating to systemic support provided by the South African sovereign could also negatively affect the perception by rating agencies of the Issuer's rating.

There can also be no assurance that the rating agencies will maintain the Issuer's current ratings or outlooks or those of South Africa. Ratings are not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to revision or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating organisation. Each rating should be evaluated independently of any other rating.

The Issuer may suffer a failure or interruption in or breach of its information systems

The Issuer relies heavily upon its IT systems and operations infrastructure to conduct its business. The Issuer regards these systems as critical to improving productivity and maintaining the Bank's competitive edge.

Any failure, interruption or breach in security of these systems could result in failures or interruptions in its risk management, general ledger, deposit servicing, loan servicing, debt recovery, payment custody and/or other important systems. If the Issuer's information systems failed, even for a short period of time, it could be unable to serve some or all customers' needs on a timely basis which could result in a loss of business. In addition, a temporary shutdown of the Issuer's information systems could result in costs that are required for information retrieval and verification. The Bank has developed business continuity plans; however no guarantee can be given that failures in or interruptions to the business continuity processes will not occur.

The "Core Banking Transformation Programme" is an upgrade of the Issuer's core banking system, and is an investment which is intended to create a significant long-term competitive advantage. However, the dual operation of the legacy systems and the new systems during the migration phase could be a large contributor to operational risk. Deliberate action has been taken to minimise disruption to the business during the systems migration and to deliver predictable change for the Issuer's operations and customers. The Issuer has a clear plan for implementation, and there have already been three successful releases on schedule.

The occurrence of any failures or interruptions in the Issuer's IT systems and operations infrastructure could have a materially adverse effect on the Issuer's business, financial condition and/or results of operations.

Competitive Landscape

The Issuer is subject to significant competition from other major banks operating in South Africa, including competitors such as international banks that may have greater financial and other resources, particularly in the corporate and investment banking market. Many of these banks operating in the Issuer's markets compete for substantially the same customers as the Issuer. The Issuer also faces competition from other non-bank entities that increasingly provide similar services to those offered by banks, including entities such as retailers, mobile telephone companies and entities in the shadow banking industry. Increased competition from non-bank entities in the money markets and capital markets could impact the Issuer's ability to attract funding. Competition may increase in some or all of the Issuer's principal markets and may have an adverse effect on its financial condition and results of operations.

The Issuer is subject to capital requirements that could affect its operations

The Issuer is subject to capital adequacy guidelines adopted by the SARB, which provide for a minimum target ratio of capital to risk-adjusted assets. In order to address the liquidity concerns of the South African banking industry following the implementation of the Regulations (as defined below), the SARB has announced a committed liquidity facility.

The amended Regulations relating to Banks (the Regulations) effective 1 January 2013 are based on the Basel III framework and provide the minimum risk based capital ratios. The Basel Committee on Banking Supervision (BCBS) total minimum risk-based capital ratio remains at 8 per cent., the minimum common equity ratio will increase from 2 per cent. (before the application of regulatory adjustments) to 4.5 per cent. (after the application of stricter regulatory adjustments) and the Tier 1 capital requirement, which includes common equity and other qualifying financial instruments, will increase from 4 per cent. to 6 per cent. The South African Reserve Bank (SARB) minimum ratios will be phased in for the period 2013 to 2019 in line with Basel III. The common equity tier 1 ratio requirement for 2013 is 4.5 per cent. increasing to 8.50 per cent. in 2019 when banks will be required to maintain, in the form of common equity, a capital conservation buffer of 2.5 per cent. to withstand future periods of stress as well as a Pillar 2A and Domestically Systemically Important Banks (D-SIB) buffers of 1.5 per cent. and, if there is excess credit growth resulting in a system-wide build-up of risk, a countercyclical buffer within a range of 0 per cent to 2.5 per cent of common equity. The Tier 1 2013 SARB minimum ratio has been set at 6 per cent in 2013 increasing to 10.75 per cent in 2019. The 2013 SARB minimum for total capital is set at 9.5 per cent increasing to 14 per cent in 2019.

The new Basel III capital buffers will make it more challenging for banks to comply with minimum capital ratios in future. Failure by the Issuer to meet certain of these buffers, for example the capital conservation and counter-cyclicality buffers could result in restrictions being placed on distributions, including dividends, share buybacks and discretionary payments and any failure by the Issuer to maintain its ratios may result in action taken in respect of the Issuer which may in turn impact on its ability to fulfil its obligations under the Notes.

The impact of any future change in law or regulation on the Issuer's business is uncertain

Regulatory and legal developments significantly inform the Issuer's business planning processes and the pace and scale of regulatory change affecting the Issuer's business is a major challenge. The Issuer is subject to a number of prudential and regulatory controls designed to maintain the safety and soundness of banks in South Africa and to limit their exposure to risk. Supervision is undertaken by various regulatory bodies in South Africa which includes, but is not limited to the Bank Supervision Department of SARB, the National Credit Regulator and the Financial Intelligence Centre. In response to the global economic crisis, there has been an increase in the volume, pace and scope of regulatory change impacting financial institutions. The SARB has implemented comprehensive regulations to incorporate Basel III into the South African regulatory framework which came into effect on 1 January 2013. These impact capital adequacy, liquidity and counterparty credit risk. South Africa was an early-adopter of the Basel III Capital Accord amongst other members of the Basel Committee and of the G20.

Financial sector policy in South Africa is dynamic – with legislation and regulation being developed and implemented to achieve four broad policy objectives: financial stability and improved safety of the financial system; improved market conduct and protection for consumers of financial services; greater levels of financial inclusion; and ensuring the integrity of the financial sector against financial crime. Some of the legislative developments in respect of achieving these policy goals include the following:

- Financial Markets Act: this legislation was passed into law in 2013 and introduces a new regulatory framework for the trading of OTC derivatives in keeping with the commitment of the G20; the regulations pursuant to this statute are currently being finalised and will set out the requirements for mandatory clearing of standardised OTC derivative products through a central counterparty (CCP), and the mandatory reporting of trades to a Trade Repository;
- 'Treating Customers Fairly' (TCF) which is a market conduct regulatory regime similar to that introduced in the United Kingdom, and which aims to enhance the treatment of customers by financial institutions; legislative amendments currently before Parliament will result in banks and other financial firms being subject to higher consumer protection standards as contained in TCF and will no longer fall under the auspices of the Consumer Protection Act;
- Twin Peaks Regulatory Architecture: legislation to implement a twin peaks model is expected to be published in the second half of 2013 and will provide for a prudential regulator of financial institutions, as well as a separate market conduct regulator;
- Regulation of consumer credit: the South African government is currently reviewing the impact of the National Credit Act since its introduction several years ago and a White Paper outlining proposed changes to the statute is expected to be released during 2013; South Africa's leading retail banks have signed a Joint Statement on Unsecured Lending with the Minister of Finance and have committed to taking various steps to ensure higher standards of conduct in credit provision.

The Issuer's bancassurance business is being impacted by a raft of regulatory developments in the insurance sector, including the introduction of Solvency Assessment and Management which is the South African response to the Solvency II requirements. Regulators are also reviewing market conduct in the insurance and bancassurance sectors and changes are anticipated in the next year or two in credit life insurance, remunerations for intermediaries and financial advisors; and fees for investment and savings products.

There are also legislative and regulatory developments that have implications for the Issuer currently before Parliament, including the Protection of Personal Information Bill which is expected to become law in 2014; amendments to labour legislation; and the alignment of the property regulatory framework to the Constitution of South Africa.

South Africa's black economic empowerment policy is applicable to the Issuer. The Financial Sector Code sets out targets for financial institutions to work towards attaining by 2017 on several dimensions of empowerment including spend on preferential procurement, enterprise development, skills development, and consumer financial education; as well as targets related to specific types of project finance including infrastructure and affordable housing, as well as financial inclusion.

The Issuer is also faced with complying with US and EU legislation that has extra-territorial reach, including the EU's European Market Infrastructure Regulation (EMIR) and the US Dodd Frank Act, both of which regulate derivatives trading with EU and US counterparties respectively. The US Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA) is another extra-territorial law with which the Issuer must comply and which requires operational changes.

Regulatory changes or changes in law applying to the financial services industry in the markets in which the Issuer operates may adversely affect the Issuer's product range, distribution channels, capital requirements and, consequently, reported results and financing requirements.

The Issuer may be unable to recruit, retain and motivate key personnel

The Issuer's performance is dependent on the talents and efforts of key personnel, some of whom may have been employed by the Issuer for a substantial period of time and have developed with the business. The Issuer's continued ability to compete effectively and further develop its businesses also depends on its ability to attract new employees. In relation to the development and training of new staff, the Issuer is reliant on the continued development of the educational sector within South Africa, including access to facilities and educational programmes by its future employees.

Cyber crime could have a negative impact on the Issuer's operations

The Issuer's operations are dependent on its own information technology systems and those of its third party service providers. The Issuer could be negatively impacted by cyber attacks on any of these. Cyber attacks are becoming increasingly sophisticated and there can be no assurance that the Issuer will be able to prevent all threats.

Terrorist acts and other acts of war could have a negative impact on the business

Terrorist acts, and other acts of war or hostility and responses to those acts, may create economic and political uncertainties, which could have a negative impact on South Africa, and international economic conditions generally, and more specifically on the business and results of operations of the Issuer in ways that cannot be predicted.

Political, social and economic risks in South Africa or regionally may have an adverse effect on the Issuer's operations

The Issuer's operations are concentrated in South Africa with the majority of its revenues deriving from operations in South Africa. Operations in this market are subject to various risks, which include political, economic and social influences. Factors such as economic growth, inflation, interest rates, foreign exchange rates and currency controls could affect an investment in the Notes, and in a manner that may be difficult to predict.

Risk relating to Emerging Markets

South Africa is generally considered by international investors to be an emerging market. Investors in emerging markets such as South Africa should be aware that these markets are subject to greater risk than more developed markets. These risks include economic instability as well as, in some cases, significant legal and political risks.

Due to its liquidity and use as a proxy for emerging market trades, the South African Rand is particularly exposed to changes in investor sentiment and resulting periods of volatility. In addition to this, economic instability in South Africa and in other emerging market countries is caused by many different factors, including the following:

- labour unrest;
- policy uncertainty;
- widening of the current account deficit;
- currency volatility;
- falling commodity prices;
- capital inflows; and
- a decline in domestic demand.

Any of these factors, as well as volatility in the markets for securities similar to the Notes, may adversely affect the value or liquidity of the Notes.

Standard Bank Group's (SBG) strategic focus is on Africa and other selected emerging economies. As SBG's largest operating entity, SBSA provides a large balance sheet on which to book deals executed in support of SBG's African strategy (within the applicable macro prudential limit imposed by SARB).

Accordingly, investors should exercise particular care in evaluating the risks involved and must decide for themselves whether, in light of those risks, their investment is appropriate. Generally, investment in developing markets is only suitable for sophisticated investors who fully appreciate the significance of the risks involved, and prospective investors are urged to consult with their own legal and financial advisors before making an investment in the Notes.

Investors should also note that developing markets, such as South Africa, are subject to rapid change and that the information set out in this Programme Memorandum may become outdated relatively quickly.

Regulatory Environment

The Issuer is subject to government regulation in South Africa. Regulatory agencies have broad jurisdiction over many aspects of the Issuer's business, which may include capital adequacy, premium rates, marketing and selling practices, advertising, licensing agents, policy forms, terms of business and permitted investments.

Changes in government policy, legislation or regulatory interpretation applying to the financial services industry in the markets in which the Issuer operates may adversely affect the Issuer's product range, distribution channels, capital requirements and, consequently, reported results and financing requirements.

SBG's strategic focus is on Africa and other selected emerging economies. The Issuer is required by the SARB to limit its foreign currency lending exposure (the macro-prudential limit). Should the South African government (the Government) reduce the macro-prudential limit, this would constrain the Issuer's ability to transact overseas with African and other selected emerging economies in line with its strategic focus.

Exchange Controls

Since 1995, certain exchange controls in South Africa have been relaxed. The extent to which the Government may further relax such exchange controls cannot be predicted with certainty, although the Government has committed itself to a gradual approach of relaxation. Further relaxation, or abolition of exchange controls may precipitate a change in the capital flows to and from South Africa. If the net result of this were to cause large capital outflows, this could adversely affect the Issuer's business and it could have an adverse effect on the financial condition of the Issuer as a whole. In the event of the immediate abolition of exchange control there may be a sudden withdrawal of Rand from the South African market by investors. Because South Africa has a fully floating exchange rate and a flexible interest rate policy, this may result in a rapid depreciation of the Rand exchange rate which may serve to stem the flight and may also result in an increase in interest rates due to the depreciation of the Rand.

Risks relating to the Notes

There is no active trading market for the Notes

Notes issued under the Programme will be new securities which may not be widely distributed and for which there is currently no active trading market (unless in the case of any particular Tranche, such Tranche is to be consolidated with and form a single series with a Tranche of Notes which is already issued). If the Notes are traded after their initial issuance, they may trade at a discount to their initial offering price, depending upon prevailing interest rates, the market for similar securities, general economic conditions and the financial condition of the Issuer. Although applications have been made or will be made for the Notes issued under the Programme to be listed on the Financial Exchange, there is no assurance that such applications will be accepted, that any particular Tranche of Notes will be so admitted or that an active trading market will develop. Accordingly, there is no assurance as to the development or liquidity of any trading market for any particular Tranche of Notes.

The liquidity of the trading market for any particular Tranche of Notes may be adversely affected in the event that the Issuer conducts significant buyback activity in respect of that Tranche of Notes. For example, the Issuer may purchase a significant percentage of the Aggregate Nominal Amount of a particular Tranche of Notes pursuant to a liability management exercise. Should the Issuer conduct significant buyback activity in respect of any Tranche of Notes in issue, due consideration will be paid to the interests of the remaining holders of that Tranche of Notes.

The Notes may be redeemed prior to maturity

Unless in the case of any particular Tranche of Notes the relevant Applicable Pricing Supplement specify otherwise, in the event that the Issuer would be obliged to increase the amounts payable in respect of any Notes due to any withholding or deduction for or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatever nature imposed, levied, collected, withheld or assessed by or on behalf of South Africa or any political subdivision thereof or any authority therein or thereof having power to tax, the Issuer may redeem all outstanding Notes in accordance with the Conditions.

In addition, if in the case of any particular Tranche of Notes the relevant Applicable Pricing Supplement specify that the Notes are redeemable at the Issuer's option in certain other circumstances, the Issuer may choose to redeem the Notes at times when prevailing interest rates may be relatively low. In such circumstances an investor may not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds in a comparable security at an effective interest rate as high as that of the relevant Notes.

Because the Uncertificated Notes are held by or on behalf of the Central Depository, investors will have to rely on their procedures for transfer, payment and communication with the Issuer

Notes issued under the Programme will be uncertificated. Except in the circumstances described in Condition 14 (Exchange of Beneficial Interests and Replacement of Individual Certificates), investors will not be entitled to receive certificated Notes. The Central Depository will maintain records of the beneficial interests in the Uncertificated Notes. Investors of such Uncertificated Notes will be able to trade their beneficial interests only through the Central Depository.

The Issuer will discharge its payment obligations under the Uncertificated Notes by making payments to or to the order of the common depository for the Central Depository for distribution to their account holders. A holder of a Beneficial Interest in an Uncertificated Note must rely on the procedures of the Central Depository to receive payments under the relevant Notes. The Issuer has no responsibility or liability for the records relating to, or payments made in respect of, Beneficial Interests in the Global Notes.

Holders of Beneficial Interests in the Uncertificated Notes will not have a direct right to vote in respect of the relevant Notes. Instead, such holders will be permitted to act only to the extent that they are enabled by the Central Depository to appoint appropriate proxies.

Notes may be subordinated to most of the Issuer's liabilities

The payment obligations of the Issuer under Subordinated Notes will rank behind Senior Notes. Subordinated Notes constitute direct, unsecured and subordinated obligations of the Issuer and rank pari passu among themselves and at least pari passu with all other Subordinated Indebtedness.

With regard to any Subordinated Notes, if the Issuer is declared insolvent and a winding up is initiated, the Issuer will be required to pay the holders of unsubordinated debt and meet its obligations to all its other creditors (including unsecured creditors but excluding any obligations in respect of Subordinated Indebtedness) in full before it can make any payments on such Subordinated Notes. If this occurs, the Issuer may not have enough assets remaining after these payments to pay amounts due under such Subordinated Notes.

Credit Rating

Tranches of Notes issued under the Programme may be rated or unrated. A security rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to suspension, reduction or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating agency. Any adverse change in an applicable credit rating could adversely affect the trading price for the Notes issued under the Programme.

Exchange rate risks

The Issuer will pay principal and interest on the Notes in the Specified Currency (as defined in the Applicable Pricing Supplement). This presents certain risks relating to currency conversions if an investor's financial activities are denominated principally in a currency or currency unit (the Investor's Currency) other than the Specified Currency. These include the risk that exchange rates may significantly change (including changes due to devaluation of the Specified Currency or revaluation of the Investor's Currency) and the risk that authorities with jurisdiction over the Investor's Currency may impose or modify exchange controls. An appreciation in the value of the Investor's Currency relative to the Specified Currency would decrease (i) the Investor's Currency-equivalent yield on the Notes, (ii) the Investor's Currency equivalent value of the principal payable on the Notes and (iii) the Investor's Currency equivalent market value of the Notes. Similarly, the Issuer may be exposed to potential losses if the Specified Currency were to depreciate against key currencies in which the Issuer's revenues are based, which may have an adverse effect on its financial condition and results of operations.

Legal investment considerations may restrict certain investments

The investment activities of certain investors are subject to legal investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisers to determine whether and to what extent (i) Notes are legal investments for it, (ii) Notes can be used as collateral for various types of borrowing and (iii) other restrictions apply to its purchase or pledge of any Notes. Financial institutions should consult their legal advisers or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of Notes under any applicable risk based capital or similar rules.

The Notes may be de-listed, which may materially affect an investor's ability to resell

Any Notes that are listed on the JSE or any other listing authority, stock exchange or quotation system may be de-listed. If any Notes are delisted, the Issuer is obliged to endeavour promptly to obtain an alternative listing. Although no assurance is made as to the liquidity of the Notes as a result of listing on the JSE or any other listing authority, stock exchange or quotation system, delisting the Notes may have a material adverse effect on a Noteholder's ability to resell the Notes in the secondary market.

Risks related to the structure of the particular issue of Notes

A wide range of Notes may be issued under the Programme. A number of these Notes may have features which contain particular risks for potential investors. Set out below is a description of certain such features:

Notes subject to optional redemption by the Issuer

An optional redemption feature is likely to limit the market value of the Notes. During any period when the Issuer may elect to redeem the Notes, the market value of those Notes generally will not rise substantially above the price at which they can be redeemed. This also may be true prior to any redemption period. The Issuer may be expected to redeem Notes when its cost of borrowing is lower than the interest rate on the Notes. At those times, an investor generally would not be able to re-invest the redemption proceeds at an effective interest rate as high as the interest rate on the Notes being redeemed and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at that time.

Index-Linked and Dual Currency Notes

The Issuer may issue Notes the terms of which provide for interest or principal payable in respect of such Note to be determined by reference to an index or formula, to changes in the prices of securities or commodities, to movements in currency exchange rates or other factors (each, a Relevant Factor) or with principal or interest payable in one or more currencies which may be different from the currency in which the Notes are denominated. Potential investors should be aware that:

- the market price of such Notes may be volatile;
- no interest may be payable on such Notes;
- payments of principal or interest on such Notes may occur at a different time or in a different currency than expected;
- the amount of principal payable at redemption may be less than the nominal amount of such Notes or even zero;

- a Relevant Factor may be subject to significant fluctuations that may not correlate with changes in interest rates, currencies or other indices;
- if a Relevant Factor is applied to Notes in conjunction with a multiplier greater than one or contains some other leverage factor, the effect of changes in the Relevant Factor on principal or interest payable likely will be magnified; and
- the timing of changes in a Relevant Factor may affect the actual yield to investors, even if the average level is consistent with their expectations. In general, the earlier the change in the Relevant Factor, the greater the effect on yield.

Partly-paid Notes

The Issuer may issue Notes where the issue price is payable in more than one instalment. Failure to pay any subsequent instalment could result in an investor losing all of its investment.

Notes issued at a substantial discount or premium

The market values of securities issued at a substantial discount or premium from their principal amount tend to fluctuate more in relation to general changes in interest rates than do prices for conventional interest bearing securities. Generally, the longer the remaining term of the securities, the greater the price volatility as compared to conventional interest-bearing securities with comparable maturities.

Modification and waivers and substitution

The Conditions of the Notes contain provisions for calling meetings of Noteholders to consider matters affecting their interests generally. These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all Noteholders including Noteholders who did not attend and vote at the relevant meeting and Noteholders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority.

Change of law

This Programme Memorandum, the Notes and the applicable Terms and Conditions, are governed by, and will be construed in accordance with, the laws of South Africa. No assurance can be given as to the impact of any possible judicial decision or change to the laws of South Africa or administrative practice in South Africa after the Programme Date.

Reclassification of Income Statement for the year ended 31 December 2011

The Issuer adopted certain changes to its financial statements in its 2012 Audited Financial Statements. As a result, certain line items relating to the comparative financial information as at and for the year ended 31 December 2011 were reclassified in the 2012 Audited Financial Statements in order to provide a consistent basis of presentation. Certain Restatements

Certain line items contained in the 2011 Audited Financial Statements were restated in the 2012 Audited Financial Statements. In particular, the following restatements were made:

During 2012, the owner-occupied portion of commercial property finance was moved from Corporate & Investment Banking SA to Personal & Business Banking SA. As a result, certain credit risk disclosures relating to commercial property finance as at 31 December 2011 which are contained on page 84 of the 2012 risk and capital management report and set out on page 90 of this Programme Memorandum have been restated to reflect this reclassification between business units.

During 2012, the source of Corporate & Investment Banking SA collateral data was changed so that it was better aligned with the SBSA Group's other pillar 3 disclosures and disclosures in the Bank's 2012 Risk and Capital Management Report. As a result, the Bank's exposure to retail mortgages as at 31 December 2011 which is contained on page 88 of the 2012 risk and capital management report and set out on page 98 of this Programme Memorandum has been restated accordingly.

Renegotiated loans and advances as at 31 December 2011 which are set out on page 88 of this Programme Memorandum have been restated to reflect the consistent application of the SBSA Group's Policy across all portfolios.

In relation to each Person shown in the records of the Central Depository or the relevant Participant, as the case may be, as the holder of a Beneficial Interest in a particular Nominal Amount of Registered Notes, a certificate or other document issued by the Central Depository or the relevant Participant, as the case may be, as to the aggregate Nominal Amount of such Registered Notes standing to the account of such Person shall be prima facie proof of such Beneficial Interest. Transfer of Beneficial Interests in Registered Notes will not be recorded in the Register and the CSD's Nominee will continue to be reflected in the Register as the registered holder of such Registered Notes, notwithstanding such transfers.

Any reference in the Terms and Conditions to the relevant Participant shall, in respect of a Beneficial Interest, be a reference to the Participant appointed to act as such by the holder of such Beneficial Interest.

Any Individual Certificate evidencing an Order Note or such Receipt or Coupon upon which the last Endorsement is an Endorsement in Blank shall be treated as a Bearer Note, for so long as not subject to further Endorsement. The Issuer, the Transfer Agent and the Paying Agent may deem and treat the Person who from the face of the Individual Certificate, Receipt or Coupon relating to an Order Note appears to be the Payee thereto as the absolute owner thereof (whether or not overdue and notwithstanding any notice of ownership or notice of any previous loss or theft thereof) for all purposes and payment to such Person or their Representative shall discharge the Issuer from all liability to the Payee in relation to such Individual Certificate, Receipt or Coupon, as the case may be, even if such Endorsement has been forged or made without authority. Provided the Issuer pays any amount due upon presentation and surrender of an Individual Certificate evidencing an Order Note, or any Receipt or Coupon attached thereto on issue, in good faith, it shall not be incumbent upon the Issuer or the Transfer Agent to determine or prove that the Endorsement of the Payee making such Endorsement was made by or under the authority of the Person whose Endorsement it purports to be.

5. STATUS OF NOTES

5.1 Status of Senior Notes

Unless otherwise specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement, the Senior Notes constitute direct, unconditional, unsubordinated and (subject to the provisions of Condition 6 (Negative Pledge)) unsecured obligations of the Issuer which will at all times rank pari passu without preference or priority among themselves and, subject to Condition 6 (Negative Pledge) and save for certain debts required to be preferred by law, rank equally with all other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer from time to time owing, save for such obligations as may be preferred by provisions of law that are both mandatory from time to time outstanding and of general application.

5.2 Status of Subordinated Notes

Subordinated Notes constitute direct, unsecured and subordinated obligations of the Issuer and rank pari passu among themselves and at least pari passu with all other Subordinated Indebtedness.

6. NEGATIVE PLEDGE

For as long as any Senior Notes remain Outstanding, and unless approved by an Extraordinary Resolution of the holders of Senior Notes, the Issuer undertakes not to create or permit the creation of any Encumbrance over any of its present or future assets or revenues to secure any present or future Relevant Debt without at the same time securing all Senior Notes equally and rateably with such Relevant Debt or providing such other security as may be approved by Extraordinary Resolution of the holders of those Senior Notes. The Issuer shall be entitled but not obliged, to form, or procure the formation of, a trust or trusts or appoint, or procure the appointment of, an agent or agents to hold any such rights of security for the benefit or on behalf of such Noteholders.

7. INTEREST

If the Applicable Pricing Supplement so specifies, the Notes of any Tranche will bear interest from the Interest Commencement Date at the Interest Rate(s) specified in, or determined in accordance with, the Applicable Pricing Supplement and such interest will be payable in respect of each Interest Period on the Interest Payment Date(s) specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement. The interest payable on the Notes of any Tranche for a period other than a full Interest Period shall be determined in accordance with the Applicable Pricing Supplement.

7.1 Interest on Fixed Rate Notes

Unless otherwise specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement, interest on Fixed Rate Notes will be paid on a six-monthly basis on the Interest Payment Dates.

7.1.1 Accrual of Interest

The Notes bear interest from the Interest Commencement Date at the Interest Rate payable in arrear on each Interest Payment Date, subject as provided in Condition 10 (Payments). Each Note will cease to bear interest from the due date for final redemption unless, upon due presentation, payment of the Redemption Amount is improperly withheld or refused, in which case it will continue to bear interest in accordance with this Condition 10 (Payments) (as well after as before judgment) until whichever is the earlier of (i) the day on which all sums due in respect of such Note up to that day are received by or on behalf of the relevant Noteholder and (ii) the day which is 7 (seven) days after the Paying Agent has notified the Noteholders that it has received all sums due in respect of the Notes up to such seventh day (except to the extent that there is any subsequent default in payment).

7.1.2 Fixed Coupon Amount

The amount of interest payable in respect of each Note for any Interest Period shall be the relevant Fixed Coupon Amount and, if the Notes are in more than one Specified Denomination, shall be the relevant Fixed Coupon Amount in respect of the relevant Specified Denomination.

7.1.4 Calculation of Interest Amount

The amount of interest payable in respect of each Note for any period for which a Fixed Coupon Amount is not specified shall be calculated by applying the Interest Rate to the Calculation Amount, multiplying the product by the relevant Day Count Fraction and rounding the resulting figure to the nearest sub-unit of the Specified Currency (half a sub-unit being rounded upwards)

and multiplying such rounded figure by a fraction equal to the Specified Denomination of such Note divided by the Calculation Amount, provided that:

- (a) if an Initial Broken Amount is specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement, then the first Interest Amount shall equal the Initial Broken Amount specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement; and
- (b) if a Final Broken Amount is specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement, then the final Interest Amount shall equal the Final Broken Amount specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement.

7.2 Interest on Floating Rate Notes and Indexed Notes

7.2.1 Accrual of Interest

The Notes bear interest from the Interest Commencement Date at the Interest Rate payable in arrear on each Interest Payment Day, subject as provided in Condition 10 (Payments). Each Note will cease to bear interest from the due date for final redemption unless, upon due presentation, payment of the Redemption Amount is improperly withheld or refused, in which case it will continue to bear interest in accordance with this Condition 7.2 (Interest on Floating Notes and Indexed Notes) (as well as after as before judgement) until whichever is the earlier of (i) the day on which all sums due in respect of such Notes to that day are received by or on behalf of the relevant Noteholder and (ii) the day which is 7 (seven) days after the Paying Agent has notified the Noteholders that it has received all sums due in respect of the Notes up to such seventh day (except to the extent there is subsequent default in payment).

7.2.2 Floating Interest Rate

The Floating Interest Rate which is applicable to a Tranche of Floating Rate Notes for an Interest Period will be determined on the basis of Screen Rate Determination or on the basis of ISDA Determination or on such other basis as may be determined by the Issuer and specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement.

7.2.3 ISDA Determination including fallback provisions

If ISDA Determination is specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Interest Rate(s) is/are to be determined, the Interest Rate applicable to the Notes for each Interest Period will be the sum of the Margin and the relevant ISDA Rate where “ISDA Rate” for an Interest Period means a rate equal to the Floating Rate (as defined in the ISDA Definitions) that would be determined by the Calculation Agent under an interest rate swap transaction if that Calculation Agent were acting as Calculation Agent for that interest rate swap transaction under the terms of an agreement incorporating the ISDA Definitions and under which:

- (a) the Floating Rate Option is as specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement;
- (b) the Designated Maturity is the period specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement; and
- (c) the relevant Reset Date is either: (i) if the applicable Floating Rate Option is based on ZAR- JIBAR-SAFEX, the first day of that Interest Period; or (ii) in any other case, as specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement.

Floating Rate, Floating Rate Option, Designated Maturity and Reset Date have the meanings given to those expressions in the ISDA Definitions and JIBAR means the average mid-market yield rate per annum for a period of the Designated Maturity which appears on the Reuters Screen SAFEX page at or about 11h00 (Johannesburg time) on the relevant date (or any successor rate).

7.2.4 Screen Rate Determination including fallback provisions

If Screen Rate Determination is specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement as the manner in which the Interest Rate is to be determined, the Interest Rate applicable to the Notes for each Interest Period will be determined by the Calculation Agent on the following basis:

- (a) if the Reference Rate is a composite quotation or customarily supplied by one entity, the Calculation Agent will determine the Reference Rate which appears on the Relevant Screen Page as of the Relevant Time on the relevant Interest Determination Date; or
- (b) in any other case, the Calculation Agent will determine the arithmetic mean of the

Reference Rates which appear on the Relevant Screen Page as of the Relevant Time on the relevant Interest Determination Date;

- (c) if, in the case of (i) above, such rate does not appear on that page or, in the case of (ii) above, fewer than two such rates appear on that page or if, in either case, the Relevant Screen Page is unavailable, the Calculation Agent will:
 - (A) request the principal Johannesburg office of each of the Reference Banks to provide the Calculation Agent with its offered quotation (expressed as a percentage rate per annum) for the Reference Rate at approximately 12h00 (Johannesburg time) on the Interest Determination Date in question; and
 - (B) determine the arithmetic mean of such quotations; and
- (d) if fewer than 3 (three) such offered quotations are provided as requested, the Calculation Agent will determine the arithmetic mean of the rates (being the nearest Reference Rate, as determined by the Calculation Agent) quoted by major banks in the Johannesburg inter-bank market, selected by the Calculation Agent, at approximately 12h00 (Johannesburg time) on the first day of the relevant Interest Period for loans in the Specified Currency to leading banks in the Johannesburg inter-bank market for a period equal to the relevant Interest Period and in an amount that is representative for a single transaction in that market at that time;

(and the Interest Rate for such Interest Period shall be the sum of the Margin and the rate or (as the case may be) the arithmetic mean so determined; provided, however, that if the Calculation Agent is unable to determine a rate or (as the case may be) an arithmetic mean in accordance with the above provisions in relation to any Interest Period, the Interest Rate applicable to the Notes during such Interest Period will be the sum of the Margin and the rate or (as the case may be) the arithmetic mean last determined in relation to the Notes in respect of a preceding Interest Period.

7.2.5 Indexed Interest

If the Indexed Interest Note provisions are specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement as being applicable, the Interest Rate(s) applicable to the Notes for each Interest Period will be determined in accordance with the manner specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement.

7.2.6 Maximum and/or Minimum Interest Rate

If the Applicable Pricing Supplement specifies a Maximum Interest Rate for any Interest Period, then the Interest Rate for such Interest Period shall in no event be greater than such Maximum Interest Rate and/or if it specifies a Minimum Interest Rate for any Interest Period, then the Interest Rate for such Interest Period shall in no event be less than such Minimum Interest Rate.

7.2.7 Determination of Floating Interest Rate and Calculation of Interest Amount

The Calculation Agent, in the case of Floating Rate Notes will, at or as soon as practicable after each time at which the Interest Rate is to be determined in relation to each Interest Period, calculate the Interest Amount payable in respect of each Note for such Interest Period. The Interest Amount will be calculated by applying the Interest Rate for such Interest Period to the Calculation Amount and multiplying the product by the relevant Day Count Fraction, rounding the resulting figure to the nearest sub-unit of the Specified Currency (half a sub-unit being rounded upwards) and multiplying such rounded figure by a fraction equal to the Specified Denomination of the relevant Note divided by the Calculation Amount.

7.2.8 Calculation of Other Amounts

If the Applicable Pricing Supplement specifies that any other amount is to be calculated by the Calculation Agent, the Calculation Agent will, as soon as practicable after the time or times at which any such amount is to be determined, calculate the relevant amount. The relevant amount will be calculated by the Calculation Agent in the manner specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement.

7.2.9 Publication

The Calculation Agent will cause each Interest Rate and Interest Amount determined by it, together with the relevant Interest Payment Date, and any other amount(s) required to be determined by it, together with any relevant payment date(s) to be notified to the Issuer, the Paying Agent, the Transfer Agent, the Noteholders in respect of any Floating Rate Notes which are Bearer Notes or Order Notes, any Financial Exchange on which the relevant Floating Rate Notes are for the time being listed and any central securities depository in which Individual Certificates in respect of the Notes are immobilised, as soon as possible after their determination but (in the case of each Interest Rate, Interest Amount and Interest Payment Date) in any event not later than 3 (three) Business Days after the Interest Determination Date (in the case of the determination of Floating Interest Rate applicable to a Tranche of Floating Rate Notes) and no later than 3 (three) Business Days before the Interest Payment Date (in the case of the determination of the Interest Amount). Notice thereof shall also promptly be given to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 18 (Notices).

The Calculation Agent will be entitled to recalculate any Interest Amount (on the basis of the foregoing provisions) without notice in the event of an extension or shortening of the relevant Interest Period. Any such amendment will be promptly notified to the Issuer and to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 18 (Notices) and, if the relevant Tranche of Notes is listed on the JSE, the JSE and the Central Depository. If the Calculation Amount is less than the minimum Specified Denomination the Calculation Agent shall not be obliged to publish each Interest Amount but instead may publish only the Calculation Amount and Interest Amount in respect of a Note having the minimum Specified Denomination.

7.2.10 Notifications etc. to be final

All notifications, opinions, determinations, certificates, calculations, quotations and decisions given, expressed, made or obtained for the purposes of the Condition 7.2 (Interest on Floating Notes and Indexed Notes) by the Calculation Agent will (in the absence of wilful default, bad faith or manifest error) be binding on the Issuer, the Paying Agent and the Noteholders and (subject as aforesaid) no liability to any such Person will attach to the Calculation Agent in connection with the exercise or non exercise by it of its powers, duties and discretions for such purposes.

7.3 Interest on Mixed Rate Notes

The interest rate payable from time to time on Mixed Rate Notes shall be the interest rate payable on any combination of Fixed Rate Notes, Floating Rate Notes, Zero Coupon Notes or Indexed Notes for respective periods, each as specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement. During each such applicable period, the interest rate on the Mixed Rate Notes shall be determined and fall due for payment on the basis that and to the extent that such Mixed Rate Notes are Fixed Rate Notes, Floating Rate Notes, Zero Coupon Notes or Indexed Notes, as the case may be.

7.4 Interest on Partly Paid Notes

In the case of Partly Paid Notes (other than Partly Paid Notes which are Zero Coupon Notes), interest will accrue on the paid-up Nominal Amount of such Notes and otherwise as specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement.

7.5 Interest on Instalment Notes

In the case of Instalment Notes, interest will accrue on the amount outstanding on the relevant Note from time to time and otherwise as specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement.

7.6 Accrual of Interest

Each Note (or in the case of the redemption of part only of a Note, that part only of such Note) will cease to bear interest (if any) from the date of its redemption unless, upon due presentation thereof, payment of principal is improperly withheld or refused. In such event, interest will accrue at the SAFEX Overnight Deposit Rate (to be found on the Reuters Screen SAPEY page as at 12h00 (Johannesburg time) on the presentation date, or any successor rate) until the earlier of:

7.6.1 the date on which all amounts due in respect of such Note have been paid; or

7.6.2 in respect of Uncertificated Notes, the date on which the full amount of the moneys payable has been received by the Paying Agent and notice to that effect has been given to Noteholders in accordance with Condition 18 (Notices).

In the event that the SAFEX Overnight Deposit Rate is not ascertainable from the relevant screen page at the time contemplated above, the Calculation Agent shall follow the procedure contemplated in Condition 7.2.2 to ascertain a rate.

7.7 Business Day Convention

If any Interest Payment Date (or other date) which is specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement to be subject to adjustment in accordance with a Business Day Convention would otherwise fall on a day which is not a Business Day, then, if the Business Day Convention specified is:

- (a) the Floating Rate Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date (or other date) shall in any case where Interest Periods are specified in accordance with Condition 7.2, be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event: (i) such Interest Payment Date (or other date) shall be brought forward to the first preceding Business Day; and (ii) each subsequent Interest Payment Date (or other date) shall be the last Business Day in the month which falls the number of months or other period specified as the Interest Period in the Applicable Pricing Supplement after the preceding applicable Interest Payment Date (or other date) has occurred; or
- (b) the Following Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date (or other date) shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day; or
- (c) the Modified Following Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date (or other date) shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event such Interest Payment Date (or other such date) shall be brought forward to the first preceding Business Day; or
- (d) the Preceding Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date (or other date) shall be brought forward to the first preceding Business Day.

8. EXCHANGE OF TALONS

The aggregate Nominal Amount of Redeemed Notes represented by Individual

A holder of an Individual Certificate shall specify its payment details in the Put Notice for the purposes of payment of the Optional Redemption Amount.

The delivery of Put Notices shall be required to take place during normal office hours of the Transfer Agent. Pro forma Put Notices shall be available from the Specified Office of the Issuer.

9.7 Early Redemption Amounts

For the purpose of Condition 9.2 (Redemption following the occurrence of a Tax Event and/or Change in Law) and Condition 13 (Events of Default) (and otherwise as stated herein), the Notes will be redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount calculated as follows:

- (a) in the case of Notes with a Final Redemption Amount equal to the Nominal Amount, at the Final Redemption Amount thereof; or
- (b) in the case of Notes (other than Zero Coupon Notes) with a Final Redemption Amount which is or may be less or greater than the Issue Price (to be determined in the manner specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement), at that Final Redemption Amount or, if no such amount or manner is so specified in the Pricing Supplement, at their Nominal Amount; or
- (c) in the case of Zero Coupon Notes, at an amount (the Amortised Face Amount) equal to the sum of:

Where such calculation is to be made for a period which is not a whole number of years, it shall be calculated on the basis of actual days elapsed divided by 365, or such other calculation basis as may be specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement.

9.8 Instalment Notes

Instalment Notes will be redeemed at the Instalment Amounts and on the Instalment Dates. In the case of early redemption in accordance with Conditions 9.2 (Redemption following the occurrence of a Tax Event and/or Change in Law) or 9.7 (Early Redemption Amounts), the Early Redemption Amount will be determined pursuant to Condition 9.7 (Early Redemption Amounts).

The delivery by the Issuer of the Exchange Securities in the manner specified in the Applicable Pricing Supplement shall constitute the in specie redemption in full of such Notes.

9.11 Purchases

The Issuer or any of its Subsidiaries may at any time purchase Notes (including all unmatured Coupons and Receipts) at any price in the open market or otherwise.

9.12 Cancellation

DESCRIPTION OF THE STANDARD BANK OF SOUTH AFRICA LIMITED

OVERVIEW

The Standard Bank of South Africa Limited (SBSA or the Bank) is the largest bank in South Africa (measured by both assets and earnings) and is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Standard Bank Group Limited (SBG). The Bank is a universal bank providing retail, corporate, commercial and investment banking services to individuals and companies across South Africa. The Bank considers itself to be both a strong domestic bank, and a cross-border bank, integrated within SBG's operations and business. SBSA is fully integrated with the rest of SBG and plays a fundamental role in positioning the Standard Bank Group to capitalise on the pace of growth in the rest of Africa. The South African operation is the head office for the Group's African focus and provides the springboard for SBG's strategy; the capacities developed in the domestic operation provide the foundation of knowledge and experience required in markets in sub-Saharan Africa. As SBG's largest operating entity, SBSA provides balance sheet capacity on which to book deals executed in support of SBG's African strategy, using the macro prudential limit. All references herein to "SBSA Group" are to SBSA and its subsidiaries and all references to the "SBG Group" are to SBG and its subsidiaries.

As at 31 December 2012, the Bank had total assets of R979,013 million (compared to R921,689 million as at 31 December 2011) and had profit attributable to the ordinary shareholder of R11,924 million for the year ended 31 December 2012 (R9,510 million for the year ended 31 December 2011).

Originally founded in 1862, the Bank was a member of Standard Chartered Bank group (Standard Chartered) until 1987. Since that time, the Bank has focused on consolidating its position as the premier universal bank in South Africa, while its parent company, SBG, has expanded into other markets across Africa, Asia, Europe and the Americas.

The SBG Group offers a range of banking and related financial services, operating in 18 countries in sub-Saharan Africa as well as selected emerging markets. SBG was listed on the JSE in 1970 and owns a controlling stake in the South African-listed, wealth management group, Liberty Holdings Limited. SBG operates as three business units: Personal & Business Banking, Corporate & Investment Banking and Liberty. The Bank is the largest business entity within the SBG Group and represents nearly all of SBG's South African operations in Personal & Business Banking and Corporate & Investment Banking.

SBSA operates through two principal business units:

- (1) Personal & Business Banking SA; and
- (2) Corporate & Investment Banking SA.

Personal & Business Banking SA provides banking and other financial services to individual customers and small-to-medium sized enterprises, in particular, mortgage lending, instalment sale and finance leases, card products, transactional and lending products and bancassurance. SBSA also provides mobile phone and internet banking services. For the year ended 31 December 2012, Personal & Business Banking SA recorded profits attributable to ordinary shareholders of R7,123 million, constituting 59.7 per cent. of the Bank's total profit attributable to the ordinary shareholder (compared to R5,528 million and 58.1 per cent., respectively, for the year ended 31 December 2011).¹ As at 31 December 2012, assets attributable to Personal & Business Banking SA constituted 44.5 per cent. of the Bank's total assets (42.9 per cent. as at 31 December 2011).

Corporate & Investment Banking SA provides corporate and investment banking services to governments, parastatals, larger corporate, financial institutions and international counterparties and includes global markets, transactional products and services, investment banking and real estate. Corporate & Investment Banking SA provided 42.7 per cent. of the Bank's profit attributable to the ordinary shareholder for the year ended 31 December 2012 (42.8 per cent. for the year ended 31 December 2011)¹ and constituted 52.6 per cent. of its total assets as at 31 December 2012 (54.6 per cent. as at 31 December 2011).

The Bank is incorporated in South Africa as a limited liability company and operates under South African law.

¹ "These figures do not reflect indirect support costs which are borne by Other Services SA. Other Services SA provides centralised support and back office functions to the principal business units. The direct costs of the various support functions are re-charged to the relevant business unit."

The Bank's registered address is 9th Floor, Standard Bank Centre, 5 Simmonds Street, Johannesburg, PO Box 7725, Johannesburg 2000, South Africa (telephone number: + 27 11 636 9111; fax number: + 27 11 636 4207).

HISTORY

SBSA is one of the oldest banks in South Africa having originally been incorporated in London as The Standard Bank of British South Africa Limited in 1862. The word "British" was dropped from the Bank's name in 1883. SBSA commenced operations in Port Elizabeth in 1863 and gradually expanded its geographic area of operation to include the whole of South Africa. In 1962, SBSA was formed and registered as a South African company, operating as a subsidiary of Standard Bank in London (subsequently to become Standard Chartered Bank plc).

SBSA is a wholly owned subsidiary of SBG, formerly known as Standard Bank Investment Corporation Limited, which was established in 1969 as the holding company for SBSA. SBG continued as a member of Standard Chartered until 1987 when Standard Chartered plc sold its 39 per cent. ownership of SBG to Liberty Group Limited (Liberty), transferring complete ownership of the holding company to South Africa. In July 1978, SBG accepted an offer of a 25 per cent. shareholding in a new insurance company, Liblife Controlling Corporation (Pty) Limited (LCC), which was formed to acquire a controlling interest in the Liberty group's Liberty Holdings. SBG's equity interest in LCC was increased from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. in July 1983. The acquisition ensured joint control of the Liberty group with Liberty Investments. In February 1999 Standard Bank agreed to purchase Liberty Investors' 50 per cent. interest in LCC.

Liberty now operates as a subsidiary of SBG and is therefore an affiliate of SBSA (see Corporate Structure below).

Effective 3 March 2008, SBG concluded a strategic partnership which resulted in the Industrial and Commercial Bank of China Limited (ICBC) becoming a supportive, non controlling 20 per cent. minority shareholder.

STRATEGY

SBG divides its business structure into three business pillars: (1) Personal & Business Banking, (2) Corporate & Investment Banking, and (3) Wealth Management. SBSA represents nearly all of SBG's South African operations in both Personal & Business Banking and Corporate & Investment Banking and is the largest business entity within the SBG Group.

SBG's strategic focus is on Africa. SBG regards the Bank's business in South Africa as its core operation, from which SBG develops strategic focus in Africa. As the SBG Group's largest business entity, the Bank's balance sheet is regarded an important resource for the SBG Group. Certain foreign currency transactions that are too large for the balance sheets of SBG Group's local operations are funded by SBSA. Although this increases capital utilisation in South Africa, it also makes SBSA's South African business less comparable with local banking peers.

The Bank is both a strong domestic bank, which leverages the advantages of its considerable size and scope, and a cross-border bank, fully integrated with the rest of the SBG Group. The Bank aims to achieve a wide diversification of revenue streams and embraces a universal bank model with strong retail, commercial and investment banking activities. The Bank's strategy is to serve the full value chain of customers in South Africa (from the basic to the most sophisticated of financial services needs), to maintain high standards of customer service and cost-effective delivery channels. The key elements of the Bank's strategy are as follows:

Personal & Business Banking SA

Focus on customer experience and staff morale

A key aspect of SBSA's strategy is to focus on delivering excellent customer service in order to differentiate itself from its competitors and improve the level of lifetime customers in the Bank. In order to deliver this level of customer service, the Bank seeks to ensure that its staff are engaged and committed. This involves delivering on management's promise to staff to set clear direction, visibly lead by example, grow its people and create meaningful work. The Bank has been recognised for its focus on customer service by internal and independent measures of service quality. The Standard Bank brand was independently ranked the most valuable South African banking brand in 2012 by Brand Finance South Africa.

Focused initiatives in low-income income segments

SBSA recognises that it operates in a transforming marketplace. The Bank's strategy is to serve the full value chain of customers, with financial needs ranging from the most basic to the most sophisticated. The Bank is committed to providing cost-effective access to finance and financial services to the low income (or "inclusive banking") market, while continuing to focus on prudent risk, capital and liquidity management. The Bank has over six million customers who earn less than R8,000 a month. In 2010, the Bank developed an inclusive banking unit in order to serve the low income market. The unit is dedicated to providing an integrated offering which includes five financial products for this market: a basic transactional account, a low-income loan, a credit life protection policy, a funeral policy and a basic savings product. The implementation of this strategy continued during 2012, with the aim of reducing and simplifying fees and simplifying the products offered to such customers.

The Bank believes that it currently offers its inclusive banking customers the most accessible banking facilities in South Africa, with almost 8,000 active points of service (known as "bank shops") available to serve bankable customers in previously disadvantaged areas, 105 inclusive banking loan centres, which are typically located along high density commuter routes and 1,500 inclusive banking agents who are located within the community and are able to open accounts using a mobile device in under 10 minutes. The Bank has started to generate growth in this segment of its customer base through these services, coupled with mobile business origination teams and retail partnerships in smaller towns and townships.

Investment in information technology ("IT") infrastructure

As the Bank invests in the replacement of its legacy IT systems in South Africa, it is seeking to use IT as a catalyst to transform the way in which it conducts its business. The aim of this IT investment process is to introduce standardised and integrated systems which will reduce operational costs and risks and will facilitate the Bank's strategic objective of creating an excellent, consistent customer experience.

The project has enabled the Bank to speed up the process of opening basic transaction accounts, particularly in the inclusive banking market, where the Bank is able to provide inclusive banking products through traditional and alternative distribution channels to its target customers. This offers customers easier and more accessible banking and enables the Bank to deliver new products to its customers more quickly.

In 2013, the Bank's IT strategy is focused on enhancing its customer relationship capability to enable it to obtain a single view of customers' accounts and balances, common centralised queries and complaints, and sales leads, to allow it to provide more effective customer sales and better client service.

Deposit and transaction-led customer acquisition

Despite SBSA's relatively large overall market share, the Bank believes that it can benefit from focus on areas where it is below its natural level of market share including the youth market, agricultural business and government business. Furthermore, there are certain non-interest revenue streams that appear more attractive than certain margin income streams, especially considering the potential regulatory changes under Basel III, and the Bank has focused and will continue to focus more aggressively on these.

An area of particular focus for SBSA is increasing the number of transactional (or current) account holders. The Bank believes that transactional account-holders tend to engage more actively with banks, enabling banks to develop stronger relationships which facilitate appropriate migration of customers, responsible credit granting and greater opportunity for cross-selling. In an increasingly competitive banking environment, the Bank aims to achieve an appropriate balance between cost containment and pricing to offer value to its customers. The Bank placed a freeze on its annual price increases for personal banking in 2012 and converted a number of its services to free services, including internet and cellphone banking, and the Bank's text message (SMS) notification system known as MyUpdates.

Manage the business within the socio-economic context of the country

SBSA aims to make sure that transformation in all its forms (including gender diversity and disability) becomes not just a compliance exercise, but a natural way of doing business.

The Financial Sector Code (the Code) was gazetted in November 2012. The Code provides guidelines for the sector in areas such as human resource development; procurement; enterprise development, including through joint ventures and debt financing of equity investments in Black Economic Empowerment (BEE) companies; access to financial services, including consumer education aimed at empowering consumers to make more informed choices about financial services; empowerment financing, which imposes an annual reporting requirement about forms of investment that contribute to transformation; ownership and control and financial inclusion, by making financial services accessible to previously unbanked and underserved populations, providing affordable housing, ensuring finance for black small and medium sized entities and farming enterprises and promoting infrastructure investment that will contribute towards economic growth.

Corporate & Investment Banking SA

The challenge for Corporate & Investment Banking SA is to maintain SBSA's current market position and defend its franchise against intensifying competition through increased innovation and flexibility. SBSA aims to remain positioned and resourced to participate in advisory, public private partnership financing, parastatal financing, infrastructure funds, hedging and capital market debt raising.

Organic Growth

SBSA's strategic focus within this division is on growing its franchise organically by leveraging off the Bank's track record for delivery and execution, and becoming more innovative and agile to maintain its market share. According to the 2013 Budget speech from Minister of Finance, Pravin Gordhan, 27 February 2013, the government of South Africa has budgeted R827 billion in public sector infrastructure expenditure over the next three years, which management anticipates will provide significant opportunities for deal flows for Corporate & Investment Banking SA.

SBSA aims to protect its market share in annuity franchises such as Global Markets and Transactional Products and Services.

Client centrality

SBSA's clients are central to all the Bank does. In order to enhance its franchise, the Bank has and will continue to focus on developing additional product capabilities based on client centrality, especially in the Transactional Products and Services business.

Black Economic Empowerment

BEE remains one of the most important strategic themes in South Africa, both in relation to internal transformation and the targeted financing required by the Code. As with the Personal & Business Banking SA, transformation remains a key focus, and a driver of new business activity.

Investment in human resources

Improving SBSA's people management is an important strategic focus and significant work has gone into implementing strategies to attract, retain and motivate talent. Beyond competitive remuneration, the Bank is focused on providing meaningful career development and exposure to SBG's international business as key retention strategies. Furthermore, the Bank continues to invest in creating a unified, values-based culture, a strong motivator of performance and ethical conduct which is an important consideration for talented employees when choosing between potential employers. The Bank anticipates that one of its primary competitive advantages in the years ahead will be its management, its people and its culture.

BUSINESS OF THE BANK

Introduction

SBSA is a universal bank providing retail, corporate, commercial and investment banking services to individuals and companies across South Africa. SBSA has a broad franchise and is active in almost all banking markets in South Africa.

SBSA's principal business units are Personal & Business Banking SA, and Corporate & Investment Banking SA. A third business unit (Other Services SA) provides support functions to the two principal divisions, and advisory services.

As at 31 December 2012, SBSA Group's total assets amounted to R979,013 million (compared to R921,689 million as at 31 December 2011), an increase of 6.2 per cent. For the year ended 31 December 2012, SBSA's profit attributable to the ordinary shareholder increased by 25.4 per cent. to R11,924 million from R9,510 million for the year ended 31 December 2011. The primary reason for this was an increase in total income from R40,152 million to R47,281 million for the year ended 31 December 2012. Operating expenses increased by 14.6 per cent. to R25,106 million for the year ended 31 December 2012. The main contributor to the increase in operating costs was staff costs which grew 23.2 per cent. for the year ended 31 December 2012 due to annual salary increases together with an increased number of temporary employees as a result of the Bank's extended business hours and various change initiatives within the branch network. This was marginally offset by the 1 per cent. reduction in the number of permanent employees.

For the year ended 31 December 2012, the Bank's total income increased by 17.8 per cent. to R47,281 million, following an 18.3 per cent. increase in net interest income and a 17.2 per cent. increase in non-interest revenue. The improvement in net interest income over this period was generated principally by improved pricing on mortgage lending business and increased investment banking average lending balances in South Africa that were lent at higher margins than previously.

The following table shows the contribution of the different divisions within SBSA to its major financial indicators as at and for the years ended 31 December 2012 and 31 December 2011.

	Personal & Business Banking SA		Corporate & Investment Banking SA		Other Services ¹

¹ Certain functions within the group have been transferred into Other Services pursuant to the new business architecture of the group which mandates the centralisation of group functions. These functions include: legal, human resources, finance, governance and assurance, group IT, group operations, procurement, marketing, real estate and risk management.

Personal & Business Banking SA

SBSA's Personal & Business Banking SA business unit offers individual customers and small and medium enterprises a wide range of banking, investment, insurance and other financial services in South Africa. At 31 December 2012, it operated 721 branches and loan centres and approximately 7,414 ATMs across South Africa. It also provides mobile phone and internet banking services which are an important part of providing convenient access to banking and related products.

Personal & Business Banking SA intends to further improve accessibility to banking by increasing access points across rural and underserved geographical areas.

Personal & Business Banking SA focuses on a variety of products and services, including in particular, deposit taking, mortgage lending to individual customers, instalment sales and finance leases, overdrafts, term loans and credit card facilities to individuals and small and medium sized businesses, as well as insurance and other related products.

For the year ended 31 December 2012, Personal & Business Banking SA recorded profit attributable to the ordinary shareholder of R7,123 million, an increase of 28.9 per cent. on the preceding financial year. Net interest income of R19,006 million for the year ended 31 December 2012 constituted 56.2 per cent. of the division's total income (compared to R16,223 million and 53.7 per cent. for the preceding financial year) and non-interest income amounted to R14,811 million, an increase of 6.0 per cent. compared to the preceding financial year.

Mortgage loans

Mortgage lending provides residential accommodation loans to individual customers. Gross mortgage loans increased by 4.3 per cent. for the year ended 31 December 2012 to R288,701 million (31 December 2011: R276,909 million), constituting 66.3 per cent. of loans and advances by the Personal & Business Banking SA business unit (compared to 69.7 per cent. for the year ended 31 December 2011). This was despite a weak property market and continued tightening of credit granting criteria by the Bank.

The credit loss ratio (including the charge for performing and non-performing loans) decreased from 1.06 per cent. of gross mortgage loans for the year ended 31 December 2011, to 0.93 per cent. for the year ended 31 December 2012. Credit impairment charges for mortgage loans amounted to R2,631 million for the year ended 31 December 2012 (2011: R2,875 million). For the year ended 31 December 2012, R15,382 million of gross mortgage loans (5.3 per cent. of gross mortgage loans) were impaired compared to R18,942 million (6.8 per cent. of gross mortgage loans) in the previous financial year.

Net interest income from mortgage lending increased for the year ended 31 December 2012 due to balanced growth, improved pricing for risk and lower term funding costs, partly offset by the reduced unwinding of the discount on expected non-performing loan recoveries.

Instalment sale and finance leases

The instalment sale and finance leases division provides finance to personal market customers and finance of vehicles and equipment in the business market. As at 31 December 2012, net investment in instalment sale and finance leases amounted to R56,389 million (R48,154 million as at 31 December 2011), an increase of 17.1 per cent. The credit loss ratio for instalment sales and finance leases increased from 0.66 per cent. for the year ended 31 December 2011 to 0.73 per cent. for the year ended 31 December 2012 due to growth in the performing loan book, partly offset by improvement in collections and the identification of early cycle delinquencies.

Card products

The Bank provides credit card facilities to individuals and businesses (credit card issuing) and merchant transaction acquiring services (card acquiring). The credit card product has been an important aspect of the Bank's strategic focus on the emerging middle class consumer segment in South Africa. The Bank has developed sophisticated origination methods using internal and external data to identify existing and potential customers with suitable risk profiles for credit extension.

For the year ended 31 December 2012, the Bank's gross card debtors increased by 17.9 per cent. to R23,604 million and with the credit loss ratio improving from 1.78 per cent. as at 31 December 2011 to 1.70 per cent. as at 31 December 2012 due to the change in the minimum required payment and an improvement in the customer risk profile.

Other lending

Other lending includes revolving credit accounts, overdraft and other demand lending, term lending, loans granted under resale agreements, commercial property finance, foreign currency lending and other loans and advances.

Transactional and lending products

Transactional and lending products provides transactions in products associated with the various point of contact channels such as ATMs, internet banking, telephone banking and branches. This includes deposit taking activities, electronic banking, cheque accounts and other lending products, coupled with debit card facilities to both personal and business market customers.

The Bank recorded an increase in ATM transactions of 8 per cent. in South Africa where 408 new ATMs were installed and the volume of internet banking transactions increased by 4 per cent.

Bancassurance and wealth products

The Bank also offers bancassurance and wealth products (including short-term and long-term insurance,

Performing loans

The Bank assesses its loan portfolios for impairments at each balance sheet date. In determining whether an impairment loss should be recorded in the income statement, the Bank makes judgements as to whether there is observable data indicating a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flows from a portfolio of loans before the decrease can be allocated to an individual loan in that portfolio.

Estimates are made of the duration between the occurrence of the loss event and the identification of a loss on an individual basis. The impairment for performing loans is calculated on a portfolio basis, based on historical loss ratios, adjusted for national and industry-specific economic conditions and other indicators present at the reporting date that correlate with defaults on the portfolio. These annual loss ratios are applied to loan balances in the portfolio and scaled to the estimated loss emergence period.

Non-performing loans

Retail loans are individually impaired if the amounts are due and unpaid for three or more months. Corporate loans are analysed on a case-by-case basis taking into account breaches of key loan conditions. Management's estimates of future cash flows on individual impaired loans are based on historical loss experience for assets with similar credit risk characteristics. The methodology and assumptions used for estimating both the amount and timing of future cash flows are reviewed regularly to reduce any differences between loss estimates and actual loss experience.

Renegotiated Loans

Renegotiated loans and advances are exposures which have been refinanced, rescheduled, rolled over or otherwise modified due to weaknesses in the counterparty's financial position, and where it has been judged that normal repayment will likely continue after the restructure. Renegotiated loans that would otherwise be past due or impaired totalled R4.7 billion in 2012 (2011: R4.2 billion). Renegotiated loans that have arisen from secured lending comprised 71 per cent. in 2012 (2011: 84 per cent.) of this amount and predominantly related to mortgage advances.

GOVERNANCE OVERVIEW

SBSA's governance framework is derived from SBC's governance framework, which in turn is based on principles in the King Report on Governance for South Africa 2009 (King Code). Accordingly, SBSA adheres to the King III code of corporate governance. This governance framework enables the SBSA board to balance its role of providing oversight and strategic counsel with ensuring adherence to regulatory requirements and risk tolerance. The board of directors of SBSA is ultimately responsible for governance. The chairman is an independent non-executive and the roles of chairman and chief executives are separate. This board composition ensures there is a balance of power on the board, so no individual or group can dominate board processes or decision making, and stimulates robust challenge and debate.

In discharging its responsibilities, the SBSA board delegates authority to relevant board committees and individuals with clearly defined mandates and delegated authorities, although the board retains its responsibilities. SBSA board committees include the directors' affairs committee; audit committee; risk and capital management committee; and SBSA large exposure credit committee. Each committee has a mandate which the SBSA board reviews at least annually. The mandates set out the roles, responsibility, scope of authority, composition, terms of reference and procedures. The executive committee assists the chief executive when the board is not in session, subject to statutory parameters and the board's limits on the delegation of authority to the chief executive.

The board of SBSA delegates responsibility for compliance to management and monitors this through the compliance function and a dedicated regulatory and legislative oversight function.

Conflicts of Interest

All of the directors of the Bank are also directors or prescribed officers of SBG and they therefore also owe duties in that capacity to SBG as well as to the Bank. Since the directors of the Bank are also directors of SBG, it is possible that decisions made by the directors which are in the best interests of SBG and/or the SBG Group taken as a whole may not in every case be in the best interests of the Bank.

In addition Ben Kruger, Saki Macozoma, Simon Ridley, Myles Ruck Sim Tshabalala and Peter Wharton-Hood serve as directors and prescribed officers of subsidiaries of SBG other than the Bank. These directors and prescribed officers therefore also owe duties in that capacity to those companies as well as to the Bank. It is possible that the duties which these persons owe to those companies may potentially conflict with their duties to the Bank.

The Bank engages in transactions with some of these companies, including transactions in the ordinary course of business.

The Bank's approach to managing compliance risk, including identifying and managing conflicts of interest, is proactive and premised on internationally accepted principles of risk management. Its compliance risk management is a core risk management function and is overseen by the SBG Group chief compliance officer. The Bank's compliance framework is based on the principles of effective compliance risk management, as outlined in the Banks Act and recommendations from international policy-making bodies. The Bank is also subject to, and complies with, the applicable requirement of the South African Companies Act, 2008 relating to potential conflicts of interest.

These requirements include, amongst other things, an obligation on directors to file with the SBG Group company secretary a list of all of their directorships and to declare the nature of any conflict of interest before the relevant matter is considered by the board. In addition, any director who has declared such a conflict may not take part in the board's consideration of the relevant matter.

A significant number of the Bank's non-managerial employees are represented by trade unions. The Bank has not experienced any significant strikes or work stoppages in recent years and considers its employee relations to be excellent.

The Bank has developed employment policies to meet the needs of its different business segments in the locations in which they operate, embodying principles of equal opportunity. SBSA's principal competitors are ABSA Bank Limited, FirstRand Bank Limited, and Nedbank Limited. Apart from SBSA, these represent the largest banks in South Africa. The following table sets out total assets and capital and reserves for each:

	Total assets	Capital and reserves

The Bank operates in a highly competitive environment. The economic pressures experienced in developed economies have caused banks based in those jurisdictions to seek out growth opportunities within South Africa. As banks in developed economies are often able to benefit from lower costs of funding, this has resulted in greater competition for the Bank within South Africa and other emerging markets.

Competitive Strengths

The Bank believes that it has the following competitive strengths:

Market position in key products

SBSA offers a wide range of retail, commercial and investment banking products. The Bank is one of the four major South African banks. According to the SARB BA 900 Filings as at 31 December 2012, in the 5 product categories tracked by the South African Reserve Bank, SBSA held a market share of 29.5 per cent. of mortgage lending at 31 December 2012 (31 December 2011: 28.8 per cent.), 19.1 per cent. of instalment finance at 31 December 2012 (31 December 2011: 18.4 per cent.), 27.5 per cent. of card debtors at 31 December 2012 (31 December 2011: 30.6 per cent.), 19.6 per cent. of unsecured lending (31 December 2011: 18.5 per cent.) and 24.3 per cent. of deposits at 31 December 2012 (31 December 2011: 24.6 per cent.). According to the SARB BA 900 Filings as at 31 December 2012, SBSA's market share in mortgage advances, unsecured lending and deposits is the largest of the four major South African banks.

The Corporate & Investment Banking SA has also received numerous awards recognising it as the market leader among South African investment banks (see "Corporate & Investment Banking SA" above).

Diverse revenue sources

As a universal bank, the Bank is able to generate revenue from diverse sources including net interest income from its lending portfolio, fees and trading profits from corporate advisory services, foreign exchange and derivatives, stock and bond trading, and bank transactional services.

Cost management

The Bank's cost-to-income ratio (defined as non-interest related costs to income before credit charges – but including share of profit from associates and joint ventures) was 54.7 per cent. as at 31 December 2005 and remained unchanged at 54.4 per cent. as at 31 December 2012. Since 2008, staff costs have been contained with headcount freeze and natural attrition in Personal & Business Banking SA while Corporate & Investment Banking SA has had lower incentive-based remuneration.

Loan portfolio performance and prudent reserves

Since 2005, the Bank's total loan portfolio has grown from R293,964 million to R659,500 million as at 31 December 2012, while actual write-offs increased from 0.5 per cent. of average advances in 2005 to 0.89 per cent. in 2012. This is due to increased new defaults in unsecured lending, particularly in the personal term loans portfolio.

Experienced management team

The Bank's senior management has experience both at the Bank and other institutions throughout the banking industry. The Bank's position in the market has allowed it to attract top managers from across the industry both domestically and abroad. Managers are dedicated to the goals of the institution. A compensation structure that includes both short and long term incentive plans assists in retaining key managers and leads to continuity in business operations.

Position within SBG Group

The Bank is both a strong domestic bank, which leverages the advantages of its size and scope, and a cross-border bank, fully integrated with the rest of the SBG Group.

SBG Group's competitive positioning as an African bank which operates in a number of African countries and a strong resources focus gives Corporate & Investment Banking SA access to revenue opportunities beyond the borders of South Africa. It also provides commercial opportunities, experience expertise, and intellectual capital from other SBG Group entities to Corporate & Investment Banking SA which both enhances the offering to clients and enables the Bank to better manage risk.

CAPITAL ADEQUACY

The Bank's capital management framework is designed to ensure that the Bank and its subsidiaries are capitalised in line with the Bank's risk profile, regulatory standards, economic capital standards and target ratios approved by the Board of Directors. The Bank manages its capital base to achieve a prudent balance between maintaining capital ratios to support business growth and depositor confidence, and providing competitive returns to shareholders.

The Bank is subject to regulatory capital requirements imposed by the South African Banks Act, 1990 (the Banks Act) and SARB regulations (the Regulations) which are broadly consistent with the Basel III guidelines as well as those imposed by the Financial Services Board in South Africa and other insurance regulatory bodies.

The Banks Act and Regulations requires SBG and SBSA to maintain a minimum level of capital based on SBG's and SBSA's risk-weighted assets which relate to both on and off-balance sheet exposures. Regulatory capital adequacy is measured via three main risk-based ratios, common equity tier I, tier I and total capital adequacy ratios. These measures of capital are stated as a percentage of risk-weighted assets.

Common equity tier I capital is effectively shareholders' equity (ordinary share capital, share premium and reserves). Tier I capital comprises common equity tier I and other qualifying instruments (currently perpetual non-cumulative preference shares, in future also Basel III qualifying alternative tier I instruments), whilst total capital also includes other items such as subordinated debt.

The majority of risk-weighted assets are determined on a granular basis by using risk weights calculated from internally derived risk parameters. Both on-and-off-balance sheet exposures are included in the overall credit risk-weighted assets of the Bank. Risk-weighted assets for equity risk in the banking book are modelled on the standardised, market-based and probability of default / loss given default approaches. Capital requirements for market risk and operational risk are converted into risk-weighted assets for the purpose of determining total risk-weighted assets, while other assets are risk-weighted in accordance with prescribed regulatory requirements.

For the year ended 31 December 2012, the Bank's common equity tier I capital adequacy ratio stood at 11.3 per cent., the Bank's tier I capital adequacy ratio was 11.3 per cent. (2.3 per cent. above its internally set target tier I capital adequacy ratio of 9.0 per cent.) and its total capital adequacy ratio was 14.8 per cent. (against an internal target ratio of 11 per cent. to 12 per cent. for the period).

The following table sets out the Bank's tier I, II and III capital excluding unappropriated profit for the years ended 31 December 2012 and 31 December 2011:

BASEL III

Banks in South Africa adopted Basel III with effect from 1 January 2013. Basel II incentivised banks, through lower capital requirements, to improve their risk management processes. It focused mainly on improving the measurement and management of credit, market and operational risks, enhancing the supervisory review process and requiring more extensive risk disclosure by banks. Basel III aims to enhance financial stability globally by increasing the quality and level of capital to be held by banks, extending the risk framework coverage, by introducing new liquidity ratios and also a non-risk based leverage ratio.

The SBG Group has approval from the SARB to use the advanced internal ratings-based (AIRB) approach for its credit portfolios in SBSA. For internal management purposes, the SBG Group utilises AIRB measures and principles wherever possible. The SBG Group has approval from the SARB to adopt the market-based approach for certain equity portfolios in SBSA and has obtained approval and is using the advanced measurement approach (AMA) operational risk framework. The SBG Group has approval from the SARB to use the internal models approach for most trading product groups and across most market risk types for SBSA.

In December 2009, the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision (the Basel Committee) published draft proposals of a new regulatory regime for capital and regulatory standards for banks (Basel III). Following this in December 2010 SARB circulated proposed draft amendments to the Banks Act and Basel III was subsequently adopted with effect from 1 January 2013 in South Africa.

Further, more detailed proposals in relation to the implementation of Basel III remain under consideration and current proposals include The Basel III framework includes several key initiatives, which change the Basel II framework. The key proposed changes are, among others:

Capital

The quality, consistency and transparency of the capital base are increased. In the new framework, the regulatory deductions should mainly be applied to the common equity component of the capital base. Further, to be eligible as Tier I and Tier II capital instruments need to meet more stringent requirements.

Leverage Ratio

The Basel Committee has also proposed that the risk sensitive capital framework should be supplemented with a non-risk based measure, the leverage ratio (the Leverage Ratio). The Leverage Ratio is calculated as the Tier I capital divided by the exposure (on and off-balance sheet exposures, with certain adjustments for selected items such as derivatives).

Risk-Weighting

Further significant changes, under the Basel III framework relate to counterparty credit risk in over-the-counter (OTC) derivatives and exposures to banks and other financial intermediaries. The new credit value adjustment (CVA) capital requirement covers the risk of mark-to-market losses on OTC derivatives.

Capital Buffers

The Basel III framework introduces a capital conservation buffer of 2.5 per cent. on top of these minimum thresholds. If a bank does not meet this buffer, constraints will be imposed on the bank's capital distribution, such as dividends. Also, in periods of excess growth, banks will be required to hold an additional countercyclical buffer of up to 2.5 per cent. in order not to face restrictions.

Liquidity

Another new key component of the Basel III framework is the introduction of increased regulations for liquidity risks. The objective of the liquidity reform is to improve the banking sector's ability to absorb shocks arising from financial and economic stress, whatever the source, thus reducing the risk of spillover from the financial sector to the real economy.

The Basel Committee has developed two new quantitative liquidity standards as part of the Basel III framework, which are the liquidity coverage ratio (LCR) (to be phased-in from 1 January 2015) and the net stable funding ratio (NSFR) (effective 1 January 2018). The LCR's objective is to measure the ability to manage short-term liquidity stress and ensure the appropriate holding of surplus qualifying liquid assets. The NSFR's objective is to measure the group's long-term structural funding stability in order to address the structural liquidity mismatch inherent in banking operations. Both the LCR and NSFR calculations are subject to an observation period prior to implementation to address any unintended consequences.

Systemically important financial institutions (SIFIs)

It is anticipated that the guidance developed by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision and the Financial Stability Board will form the basis for the requirements of domestic systemically important banks in South Africa.

These South African banks are currently in the process of developing their recovery and resolution plans in line with global standards. The specific 'domestic systemically important bank' (DSIB) capital requirement for each relevant bank will be finalised and communicated to banks by the SARB in advance of the implementation date of 1 January 2016.

The recovery plan focuses on plausible management or recovery actions that can be taken to reduce risk and conserve capital during times of severe stress. Resolution plans are typically developed by the supervisor with the objective of ensuring that SIFIs are resolvable and will not become a burden to tax payers.

Although the Basel III phase-in affords the Bank a period of time before full compliance is required, the Bank maintains a strong focus on achieving these liquidity and capital requirements within the specified timelines. Specific areas of focus include optimising capital and liquidity allocation between product lines, trading desks, industry sectors and legal entities that result in financial resources being allocated in a manner that enhances the overall group economic profit and return on equity, embedding risk-adjusted performance measurement into the performance measurement and reporting processes of the SBG Group and ensuring that the SBG Group is adequately positioned to respond to changing regulatory rules under Basel III.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

There are no governmental, legal or arbitration proceedings (nor are there any such proceedings which are pending or threatened of which the Bank is aware) which may have, or have had during the 12 months prior to the date of this Programme Memorandum, a significant effect on the financial position or profitability of the Bank and/or the SBSA Group.

The Bank and its subsidiaries have sued and are defendants in a number of legal proceedings incidental to their operations. While any litigation has an element of uncertainty, the Bank does not expect that the outcome of any such proceeding, either individually or in aggregate, will have a material adverse effect upon the Bank's financial condition or results of operations.

PROPERTY

As at 31 December 2012, the Bank held freehold title (net book value) to land and property of R2,386 million (compared to R1,807 million as at 31 December 2011).

INSURANCE

The Bank has a comprehensive insurance programme with cover for bankers' bond, computer crime, professional indemnity, directors' and officers' liability, assets and liabilities. An annual benchmarking review of policy wording, covers and limits ensures that the level of risk mitigation is adequate in relation to the Bank's risk profile.

All insurance cover is placed at SRG level to maximize on economies of scale and to ensure all business units are included.

IT/TECHNOLOGY

IT systems and operations infrastructure enable the Bank to be more effective and efficient. Although the Bank's investment in IT systems and infrastructure is a significant part of its expense base, they are critical to improving productivity and maintaining the Bank's competitive edge. Accordingly investment in IT systems is a key strategic focus for the Bank.

The Bank has developed and has begun to implement a strategy for IT that seeks to increase productivity and to reduce the Bank's total IT costs through the consolidation and standardisation of IT infrastructure across the SBG Group. As well as commissioning various new software packages, the Bank will be decommissioning various legacy applications. A key challenge is managing and running both old and new systems simultaneously during the process.

As part of the consolidation exercise, the Bank has established processes to ensure that a robust business case exists for all technology investments and has created an Enterprise Portfolio Management Office that oversees the entire IT project portfolio.

In addition to developing an IT strategy, the Bank's corporate governance structures have been realigned to ensure board responsibility for IT governance. The Bank has established a central IT function across the SBG Group that includes dedicated IT functions for each business area and location that respond to and service individual business needs.

The Transactional Products and Services technology unit is developing and implementing the new Business Online platform which will replace multiple legacy platforms and provide SBG Group customers with a single platform through which they can view and transact on all their accounts across all countries in which the SBG Group operates. This will replace the certain current systems as well as the Business Online system in South Africa and has gone live in 14 countries to date.

The Bank has implemented the Murex platform (supporting fixed income and equities products), is working to replace legacy platforms in its Global Markets business unit and has launched a research portal to provide its customers with immediate access to current and historical research.

Personal & Business Banking SA continues with its banking transformation programme which is expected to take five-to-seven years to implement. This transformation programme will implement a new business model, operating model, simpler processes and new systems, and is expected to support greater revenue growth through improved customer service, greater customer acquisition, improved processing time and more seamless channel integration.

Corporate & Investment Banking SA has implemented an active recruitment programme to mitigate the level of IT staff attrition being experienced, which it is hoped will ultimately contribute to improving system stability.

REGULATION

General regulatory requirements

The Bank is subject to the Banks Act and is supervised by the Bank Supervision Department, a division of the SARB.

The Bank holds a full banking licence granted by the SARB. It is an authorised dealer in foreign exchange in terms of the Exchange Control Regulations of the SARB.

The pace and scale of regulatory change continues to be a major challenge, and the Bank focuses on managing the costs and resource requirements of compliance as carefully as possible. In addition, a new unit called the Regulatory Advocacy Unit has been established that will facilitate a more proactive approach to monitoring and understanding regulatory developments, and will also be responsible for regulatory advocacy. A Regulatory Change Management Committee has been established to facilitate a more efficient approach to the implementation of regulatory change programmes across the Bank. Ongoing positive engagement with regulators has greatly facilitated the implementation of new regulations. Notable regulatory interventions in South Africa over the last few years have included the Competition Commission inquiry and numerous pieces of legislation such as the Financial Intelligence Centre Act 2001, which provides for anti-money laundering regulations; the Financial Advisory and Intermediary Services Act 2002, which regulates financial intermediary accreditation and discipline, and the National Credit Act 2005 (NCA) which regulates the provision of consumer credit.

In 2012, the Bank focused on preparing for new legislation that came into operation in 2012 and was expected to come into operation in 2013 including the Treating Customers Fairly market conduct regulatory regime, the new Financial Markets Act, and new data protection regulation (Protection of Personal Information Bill). The Bank has also prioritised ensuring its readiness for the implementation of FATCA.

The Bank is preparing for the new regulatory framework for OTC derivatives now that the Financial Markets Act has been enacted. This Act modernises South Africa's securities services legislation in line with international best practice and regulatory principles and it provides an enabling framework for the regulation of OTC derivatives and new provisions relating to market abuse. The first phase in regulating OTC derivatives will be the introduction of mandatory reporting of OTC derivatives trades to a trade repository, following which market participants will be consulted on mandatory central clearing for standardised OTC derivatives. A programme is in place to streamline the compliance with local regulations as well as the requirements of extra-territorial regulation which includes FATCA, the Dodd Frank Act and the EMIR.

South Africa is implementing the "Twin Peaks" model of financial regulation which will see banks being supervised by two regulators: a prudential regulator based in the South African Reserve Bank, and a market conduct regulator which is expected to be the current Financial Services Board, albeit with an expanded mandate. The Bank is currently engaging with the authorities on the proposed approach to Twin Peaks regulation. Legislation implementing this model – similar to that which came into effect in the UK on 1 April 2013 and is expected to be tabled in Parliament during the course of 2013/2014.

Anti-money laundering regulations

The SBG Group is committed to and supports global efforts to combat money laundering and terrorist financing. Accordingly, the SBG Group has established and adopted policies and procedures to assist it in complying with its legislative obligations in respect of, inter alia, client identification and due diligence, recordkeeping and the recognition, investigation and reporting of suspicious activity to the relevant authorities.

The Bank continues to enhance and automate its anti-money laundering and terrorist financing detection measures. The Bank also has a dedicated monitoring surveillance unit that is responsible for receiving, evaluating and reporting suspicious or unusual transactions and activities to the appropriate authorities and ensure full co-operation with the law enforcement agencies, including releasing information to them in terms of the Bank's legal obligations.

RISK MANAGEMENT

Effective risk management is fundamental to the business activities of the SBG Group and the Bank. The Bank operates under the SBG Group-wide risk framework and the Bank-specific policies to address the Bank-specific business and regulatory requirements. The Bank's chief risk officer is accountable to the Bank's board and the Bank's regulators in the same way that the SBG Group's chief risk officer is accountable to the SBG Group's board and regulators.

While the Bank remains committed to increasing shareholder value by developing and growing its business within its board-determined risk appetite, it is mindful of achieving this objective in line with the interests of all stakeholders.

The Bank seeks to achieve an appropriate balance between risk and reward in its business, and continues to enhance the risk management capabilities that assist in delivering its growth plans in a controlled environment.

Responsibility and accountability for risk management resides at all levels within the Bank, from the Bank's board of directors down through the organisation. The risk governance process relies on both individual responsibility and collective oversight, supported by comprehensive and independent reporting. This approach balances strong corporate oversight at the Bank level with participation by the senior executives of the Bank in all significant risk matters.

The Bank seeks to limit adverse variations in earnings, capital and liquidity by managing risk exposures within agreed levels of risk appetite. The Bank's risk management approach includes minimising undue concentrations of exposure, limiting potential losses from stress events, and the prudent management of liquidity.

The Bank's risk management processes have proven effective throughout 2011 and 2012 despite a difficult economic environment. Executive management has remained closely involved with risk management initiatives including those which have focused on preserving appropriate levels of liquidity and capital, and managing the risk profile.

The Bank's approach to risk management is based on the group-wide risk management framework and the three lines of defence model.

Group-wide risk management framework

The Bank operates under the SBG group-wide risk framework, which consists of:

- risk governance committees at a board and management level; and
- risk governance standards and policies.

Risk governance committees

Board subcommittees responsible for effective risk management comprise the Audit Committee (AC), the Risk and Capital Management Committee (RCMC), large exposure credit committee and the model approval committee.

Executive management oversight for all risk types has been delegated by the executive committee to the Risk Oversight Committee (ROC) which, in turn, assists the RCMC to fulfil its mandate. ROC considers and, to the extent required, recommends the following for approval by the relevant board committees: risk appetite statements; macroeconomic scenarios for stress testing; stress testing results and scenario analyses; risk governance standards for each risk type; actions on the risk profile; risk strategy and key risk controls across the Bank; and ICAAP.

ROC appoints sub-committees to deal with the material risk types. These sub-committees are the Corporate and Investment Banking SA and Personal and Business Banking SA credit governance committees; the asset and liability committee (which also covers market risk); the capital management committee; the compliance committee; the country risk committee; the equity risk committee; the internal financial control governance committee; the operational risk committee, the regulatory and legislative oversight committee, the sanctions review committee; the stress testing committee and the intragroup exposure committee.

Risk governance standards and policies

Risk governance standards are maintained for each major risk type to which the Bank is exposed, to ensure that all material risks to its strategic and financial objectives are identified and managed proactively. The risk governance standards set out minimum control requirements and ensure alignment and consistency in the manner in which the major risk types and capital management metrics across the Bank are dealt with. The risk governance standards are supported by policies.

All risk governance standards are applied consistently across the Bank and are approved by the RCMC. It is the responsibility of executive management in each business unit to ensure the implementation of risk governance standards. Supporting policies and procedures are implemented by the management team and independently monitored by the embedded risk resources.

Compliance with risk governance standards is controlled through annual self-assessments and independent reviews by the third line of defence risk functions.

The three lines of defence

The Bank adopts the three lines of defence model which reinforces segregation of duties between the three lines, and independence of control functions in the second and third lines.

The first line of defence

The first line of defence consists of management of business lines and subsidiaries. This line is responsible for measuring, assessing and controlling risks through the day-to-day activities of the business within the risk framework.

The second line of defence

The second line of defence comprises four functions: the finance function; risk management function; legal function and the governance and assurance function. A description of each function is set out below.

Finance

The finance function consists of treasury and capital management (TCM), the tax function and the financial control function. TCM is responsible for capital management; the management of liquidity risk, banking book interest rate risk; business risk; and portfolio management.

Legal

The legal function is organised on jurisdictional and product type lines to address prudential legal risks and provide transactional support, respectively.

Governance and assurance

This function consists of the governance office, financial crime control, sustainability management, compliance, and occupational health and safety.

Risk management

The risk management function oversees credit risk, country and cross-border risk, market risk, operational risk (including compliance business continuity and resilience, physical security, information risk and environmental risk) and integrated risk. Integrated risk oversees risk appetite, stress testing and threat analysis activities.

Second line of defence operating model

Each of the four functions of the second line of defence has access to a central team and teams embedded within the Corporate and Investment Banking SA and Personal and Business Banking SA business lines. The central second line of defence teams maintain the group-wide risk management framework within which all business lines and legal entities, including the Bank, are required to operate. The embedded second line of defence teams support business line management in ensuring that business line risks are effectively managed close to the source of the risk.

The third line of defence

The third line of defence is the Bank internal audit (IA) function which covers all legal entities within the SBG Group, including the Bank. It reports to and operates under a mandate from the SBG and SBSA audit committee. In terms of this mandate, the IA's role is to provide independent and objective assurance. The IA has the authority to independently determine the scope and extent of work to be performed.

Risk Appetite

Risk appetite is an expression of the amount or type of risk the Bank is generally willing to take in pursuit of its financial and strategic objectives, reflecting its capacity to sustain losses and continue to meet its obligations as they fall due, under a range of stress conditions.

The Bank's board establishes parameters for risk appetite by providing strategic leadership and guidance, reviewing and approving annual budgets and forecasts, under normal and stressed conditions, for the Bank and each business line, regularly reviewing and monitoring performance in relation to risk through quarterly board reports; and analysing risk tendency against risk appetite.

The Board delegates the determination of risk appetite to the RCMC, which in turn ensures that risk appetite is in line with the Bank strategy and the desired balance between risk and return. ROC recommends the level of risk appetite to both the RCMC and the board.

Risk appetite at the Bank level is described by the following four quantitative metrics:

- earnings at risk;
- liquidity;
- regulatory capital; and
- economic capital,

which are supplemented by qualitative criteria.

These metrics are converted into:

- portfolio limits, for example concentrations, credit loss ratios and value-at-risk (VaR);
- operational limits, for example, facilities by name; and
- product or desk-specific limits across the relevant risk types.

Stress testing

Stress testing is a key management tool within the Bank and facilitates a forward-looking perspective of the organisation's risk profile. Stress tests are conducted at Bank and business line level. Stress testing supports a number of business processes including:

- strategic planning and budgeting;
- capital planning and management;
- liquidity planning and management;
- informing the setting of risk appetite;

- providing a forward looking assessment of the impact of stress conditions on the risk profile;
- identifying and proactively mitigating risks through actions such as reviewing and changing risk limits, limiting exposures and hedging;
- facilitating the development of risk mitigation or contingency plans across a range of stressed conditions; and
- communicating with internal and external stakeholders.

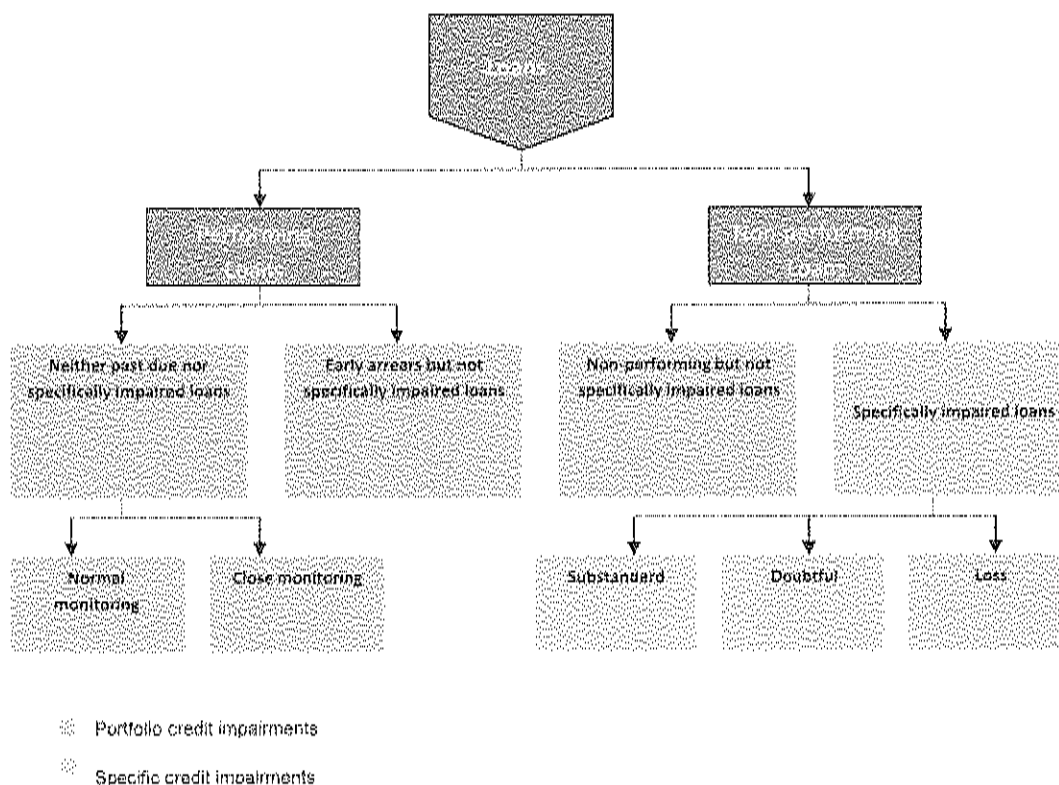

CREDIT RISK

Credit risk comprises counterparty risk, settlement risk and concentration risk.

Primary responsibility for credit risk management resides within the Bank's business lines supported by the credit risk function, with oversight by credit governance committees, ROC and the RCMC. A credit risk governance standard sets out the principles and minimum control requirements under which the Bank is prepared to assume credit risk. The principal management committee responsible for the oversight of credit risk is the ROC. The credit governance committees for both Corporate and Investment Banking SA and Personal and Business Banking SA business lines report directly to the ROC and indirectly through ROC to the RCMC. These committees are responsible for credit risk and credit concentration risk decision-making. The RCMC is the principal board committee responsible for the oversight of credit risk, with the AC having oversight responsibility for reviewing credit impairment adequacy. The committees have clearly defined mandates and delegated authorities, which are reviewed regularly.

Exposure to Credit Risk

Loans and advances are analysed and categorised based on credit quality using the categorisations set out below:

Performing loans

Neither past due nor specifically impaired loans are loans that are current and fully compliant with all contractual terms and conditions. Normal monitoring loans within this category are generally rated 1 to 21 and close monitoring loans are generally rated 22 to 25 using the Bank's master rating scale.

Early arrears but not specifically impaired loans include those loans where the counterparty has failed to make contractual payments and payments are less than 90 days past due, but it is expected that the full carrying value will be recovered when considering future cash flows, including collateral. Ultimate loss is not expected, but could occur if the adverse conditions persist.

Non-performing loans

Non-performing loans are either those loans for which the Bank has identified objective evidence of default, such as a breach of a material loan covenant or condition or where instalments are due and unpaid for 90 days or more.

Non-performing but not specifically impaired loans are not specifically impaired due to the expected recoverability of the full carrying value when considering future cash flows, including collateral.

Non-performing specifically impaired loans are those loans that are regarded as non-performing and for which there has been a measurable decrease in estimated future cash flows. Specifically impaired loans are further analysed into either substandard items that show underlying well-defined weaknesses and are considered to be specifically impaired; doubtful items that are not yet considered final losses due to some pending factors that may strengthen the quality of the items; or loss items that are considered to be uncollectible in whole or in part. With regard to loss items the Bank provides fully for its anticipated loss, after taking collateral into account.

Renegotiated loans and advances

Please refer to the tables set out on pages 82 to 85 of the risk and capital management report section of the Bank's 2012 annual report with regard to the Bank's maximum exposure to credit risk by credit quality as at 31 December 2012 and 31 December 2011.

Renegotiated loans and advances are exposures which have been refinanced, rescheduled, rolled over or otherwise modified due to weaknesses in the counterparty's financial position, and where it has been judged that normal repayment will likely continue following such restructuring.

Collateral

Please refer to the tables set out on pages 87 and 88 of the Bank's risk and capital management report section of the Annual Report 2012 for details of the financial effect that collateral has on the Bank's maximum exposure to credit risk as at 31 December 2012. The following table is presented according to Basel II asset categories and includes collateral that may not be eligible for recognition under Basel II but that management takes into consideration in the management of the Bank's exposures to credit risk. All on- and off-balance sheet exposures which are exposed to credit risk, including non-performing assets, are included.

Collateral includes financial securities that have a tradable market, such as shares and other securities, physical items, such as property, plant and equipment and financial guarantees, suretyships and intangible assets.

Netting agreements which do not qualify for offset under IAS 32 (Financial Instruments: Presentation) but which are nevertheless enforceable are included as part of the Bank's collateral. All exposures are presented before the effect of any impairment provisions.

In the retail portfolio, as at 31 December 2012, 63 per cent. of the Bank's loans and advances are fully collateralised (compared to 65 per cent. as at 31 December 2011). As at 31 December 2012, the R847 million (R897 million as at 31 December 2011) of retail accounts that lie within the 0 per cent. to 50 per cent. range of collateral coverage mainly comprise accounts which are either in default or legal enforcement). The total average collateral coverage for all of the Bank's retail mortgage exposures in the 50 per cent. to 100 per cent. collateral coverage category as at 31 December 2012 is 90 per cent. (compared to 91 per cent. as at 31 December 2011).

Of the Bank's total exposure as at 31 December 2012, 34 per cent. is unsecured (41 per cent. as at 31 December 2011) and mainly reflects exposures to well-rated corporate counterparties, bank counterparties and sovereign entities.

COUNTRY RISK

Country risk is the risk of loss arising when political or economic conditions or events in a particular country inhibit the ability of counterparties in that country to meet their financial obligations to the Bank. Country risk events may include sovereign defaults, banking or currency crises, social instability and governmental policy changes or interventions such as expropriation, nationalisation and asset confiscation. Transfer and convertibility risk is an important element of cross-border country risk. Examples of transfer and convertibility events are exchange controls and foreign debt moratoria.

The management of country risk is delegated by the RCMC to ROC and then to the country risk management committee. This committee is a subcommittee of ROC and recommends the country risk appetite for individual countries and ensures, through compliance with the country risk governance standard, that country risk exposures are effectively managed.

An internal rating model is used to determine the rating of each country in which the Bank has an exposure. These ratings are also a key input into the Bank's credit rating models. The model inputs are continuously updated to reflect economic and political changes in countries. All countries to which the Bank is exposed are reviewed at least annually. In determining the ratings, extensive use is made of the SBG Group's network of operations, country visits and external information sources. Credit loan conditions and covenants are linked to country risk events.

The country risk function also rates sovereigns. Sovereign ratings are distinct from country ratings in that they focus on sovereign creditworthiness. Country risk ratings provide a more holistic view, covering transfer and convertibility risk, economic (or credit portfolio risk), as well as sovereign risk.

Medium- and high-risk countries are subject to increased analysis and monitoring. For low-risk countries, a lesser degree of analysis is generally performed.

Where appropriate, country risk is mitigated through a number of methods including political and commercial risk insurance, co-financing with multilateral institutions and structures to mitigate transferability and convertibility risk such as collection, collateral and margining deposits outside the jurisdiction in question.

FUNDING LIQUIDITY RISK

The nature of banking and trading results in continuous exposure to liquidity risk. The Bank's liquidity management framework is designed to measure and manage liquidity positions to ensure that payment obligations can be met at all times, under both normal and stressed conditions.

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Bank will not be able to effectively meet both expected and unexpected current and future cash flow and collateral requirements without negatively affecting the daily operations or financial condition of the Bank.

ROC and the Bank's board review and set the liquidity risk governance standard annually in accordance with regulatory requirements, international best practice and the Bank's risk appetite. The Bank's asset and liability committee (ALCO) is responsible for ensuring compliance with liquidity risk policies.

Basel III liquidity impact

From 2015, the Bank will be required to comply with the liquidity coverage ratio (LCR), a metric designed by the Basel Committee on the Banking Supervision (BCBS) to measure a bank's ability to manage a sustained outflow of customer funds over the course of 30 days. The ratio is 'high quality liquid assets divided by net cash outflows' and a bank is expected to achieve a result of greater than 100 per cent. once LCR is fully implemented.

The BCBS has outlined a staged approach towards implementation of LCR from 2015 to 2019. From 2018, the Bank will also be required to comply with the net stable funding ratio (NSFR), a metric designed by the BCBS to ensure that the majority of term assets are funded by stable sources, such as capital, term borrowings or funds from stable sources such as operational and retail customers.

The Bank continues to take several steps to ensure compliance with the two liquidity metrics (namely the LCR and NSFR) within the Basel III specified timelines. Liquid asset buffers have been increased and liability products developed to reduce net cash outflows, where possible, to address the LCR requirement.

In May 2012, the SARB approved the provision of a committed liquidity facility available to banks in South Africa to meet the LCR in terms of the Basel III liquidity framework. Recent updates to the LCR framework issued by Basel mean that the requirement for this facility will likely be later than originally envisaged.

Liquidity and funding management

The Bank manages liquidity in accordance with applicable regulations, international best practice and within its risk appetite for liquidity risk.

As part of a comprehensive liquidity management process, the Bank distinguishes between tactical, structural and contingency liquidity risk. These three risk management categories are governed by a comprehensive internal governance framework to identify, measure and manage liquidity risk exposure. Combining each of these risk management categories allows for effective liquidity risk monitoring.

The liquidity management process is independently reviewed on a regular basis. In periods of stable market conditions, the Bank's liquidity risk position is monitored on at least a monthly basis by ALCO. In periods of increased volatility, the frequency of meetings is increased as required to facilitate appropriate and timely management action.

Liquidity buffer

Portfolios of highly marketable securities over and above prudential requirements are maintained as protection against unforeseen disruptions in cash flows. These portfolios are managed within ALCO-defined limits on the basis of diversification and liquidity.

The table that follows provides a breakdown of the Bank's surplus marketable securities and foreign currency placements as at 31 December 2012 compared to the position as at 31 December 2011. These portfolios are highly liquid and can be readily sold to meet liquidity requirements.

Total liquidity

	2012 Rbn	2011 Rbn
Total marketable assets	72,4	71,2
Other readily accessible liquidity	3,4	4,2
Total liquidity (in excess of prudential requirements)	75,8	75,4
Prudential requirements	31,8	31,4
Total liquidity	107,6	106,8

Structural requirements

With actual cash flows typically varying significantly from the contractual position, behavioural profiling is applied to assets, liabilities and off-balance sheet commitments with an indeterminable maturity or drawdown period, as well as to certain liquid assets. Behavioural profiling assigns probable maturities based on historical customer behaviour. This is used to identify significant additional sources of structural liquidity in the form of liquid assets and core deposits, such as current and savings accounts, which exhibit stable behaviour despite being repayable on demand or at short notice.

Structural liquidity mismatch analyses are performed regularly to anticipate the mismatch between payment profiles of balance sheet items, in order to highlight potential risks within the Bank's defined liquidity thresholds.

The table that follows shows the Bank's cumulative maturity mismatch between assets and liabilities for the 0 to 12 months bucket, after applying behavioural profiling. Limits are set internally to restrict the cumulative liquidity mismatch between expected inflows and outflows of funds in different time buckets. These mismatches are monitored on a regular basis. In order to ensure ongoing compliance with statutory and internal risk management guidelines, certain short-term assets are profiled as long dated, with active management intervention if potential limit breaches are evidenced. The behaviourally adjusted cumulative liquidity mismatch remains within the Bank's liquidity risk appetite.

Maturity analysis of financial liabilities by contractual maturity

The following table analyses cash flows (as at 31 December 2012) on a contractual, undiscounted basis based on the earliest date on which the Bank can be required to pay (except for trading liabilities and trading derivatives) and will therefore not agree directly to the balances disclosed in the consolidated statement of financial position. Derivative liabilities are included in the maturity analysis on a contractual, undiscounted basis when contractual maturities are essential for an understanding of the derivatives' future cash flows. The Bank's management considers only contractual maturities to be essential for understanding the future cash flows of derivative liabilities that are designated as hedging instruments in effective hedge accounting relationships. All other derivative liabilities are treated as trading and are included at fair value in the redeemable on demand bucket since these positions are typically held for short periods of time. The following tables also include contractual cash flows with respect to off-balance sheet items which have not yet been recorded on-balance sheet. Where cash flows are exchanged simultaneously, the net amounts have been reflected.

Foreign currency liquidity management

A number of indicators are observed to monitor changes in either market liquidity or exchange rates. Foreign currency loans and advances are restricted to the availability of foreign currency deposits.

Funding strategy

Funding markets are evaluated on an ongoing basis to ensure appropriate group funding strategies are executed depending on the market, competitive and regulatory environment. The Bank employs a diversified funding strategy, sourcing liquidity in both domestic and offshore markets, and incorporates a coordinated approach to accessing capital and loan markets across the SIBG Group.

Concentration risk limits are used to ensure that funding diversification is maintained across products, sectors, geographic regions and counterparties.

Primary funding sources are in the form of deposits across a spectrum of retail and wholesale clients, as well as long-term capital and loan markets. The Bank remains committed to increasing its core deposits and accessing domestic and foreign capital markets when appropriate to meet its anticipated funding requirements.

As at 31 December 2012 the Bank's largest depositor constituted 2.1 per cent. of total deposits (compared to 3.2 per cent. as at 31 December 2011) and its top ten depositors constituted 10.3 per cent. of total deposits (compared to 11.8 per cent. as at 31 December 2011).

The following table sets out the Bank's funding-related liabilities composition as at 31 December 2012 and 31 December 2011:

Historically, South Africans have favoured the insurance market and mutual funds for their savings over bank deposits. As a result, the Bank has pursued various methods of diversifying its funding sources. The Bank has used securitisation primarily as part of its funding strategy for its South African operations to provide added flexibility in mitigating structural liquidity risk and diversifying the funding base. Credit risk transfer and capital relief are factored in when deciding the economic merits of each new securitisation issue. The Bank has entered into securitisation transactions in the normal course of business in which it transferred recognised financial assets directly to third parties or special purpose entities. The Bank complies with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) in recognising and accounting for securitisation transactions. Special purpose entities are consolidated into the SIBG Group when required by IFRS.

Deposits from customers (including cheque accounts, savings accounts, call and notice deposits, fixed deposits and negotiable interest deposits) constitute the Bank's primary source of funding. Deposits from customers amounted to R639,491 million (70.3 per cent. of the Bank's total liabilities) as at 31 December 2012 compared to R609,250 million and 70.3 per cent. respectively, for the preceding financial year.

The table below provides a breakdown of the Bank's current accounts and deposits from banks and customers for the years ended 31 December 2012 and 31 December 2011. The carrying value of deposit and current accounts in the Bank was increased by R621 million as at 31 December 2012 (compared to an increase of R293 million in the prior year) for fair value adjustments arising from risks subject to fair value hedging relationships.

In 2012, the Bank was able to conclude a three year U.S.$1.35 billion loan facility provided by Asian, United States, United Kingdom, European, Middle Eastern and Scandinavian lenders. The Bank also concluded a 364 day U.S.$160 million loan with lenders from Asia and Europe. A debut 364 day Middle Eastern led deal in the amount of U.S.$175 million was concluded on 4 October 2012. Lenders from Asia and Europe also participated.

The Bank also issued several series of unsecured, subordinated and redeemable bonds qualifying as Basel II compliant Tier II instruments amounting to an aggregate nominal amount of R9,200 million during 2012. As at 31 December 2012, a notional value of R21,550 million of subordinated debt was outstanding (carrying value of R22,400 million) of which R21,550 million qualifies as Tier II capital (see Note 21 to the Bank's consolidated audited financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2012 for further information).² Post 31 December 2012, the Bank implemented Basel III rules which resulted in a R2,155 million reduction of Tier II subordinated debt qualifying as capital due to the application of derecognition rules within the Basel III rules text and the Bank redeemed R1,500 million of subordinated bonds in April 2013 decreasing the total notional amount of subordinated bonds to R19,395 million.

Liquidity stress testing and scenario analysis

Stress testing and scenario analysis forms an important part of the Bank's liquidity management process. Anticipated on-and off-balance sheet cash flows are subjected to a variety of the Bank-specific and systemic stresses and scenarios to evaluate the impact of unlikely but plausible events on liquidity positions. Stresses and scenarios are based on hypothetical events as well as historical events.

The results are assessed against the liquidity buffer and contingency funding plans to provide assurance as to the Bank's ability to maintain sufficient liquidity under adverse conditions. The results also inform target liquidity buffer positions. The Bank's internal stress tests continue to be updated to align with pending Basel III requirements.

Contingency funding plans

Contingency funding plans are designed to protect stakeholder interests and maintain market confidence to ensure a positive outcome in the event of a liquidity crisis. The plans incorporate an early warning indicator methodology supported by crisis response strategies.

Early warning indicators cover bank specific and systemic crises and are monitored according to assigned frequencies and tolerance levels. Crisis response strategies are formulated for the relevant crisis management structures and address internal and external communications, liquidity generation and operations, as well as supplementary information requirements.

MARKET RISK

Market risk is the risk of a change in the actual or effective market value, earnings or future cash flows of a portfolio of financial instruments, including commodities, caused by movements in market variables such as

² "The difference between the carrying and notional value represents foreign exchange movements, accrued interest and the unamortised fair value adjustments relating to bonds hedged for interest rate risk."

equity, bond and commodity prices, currency exchange rates and interest rates, credit spreads, recovery rates, correlations and implied volatilities in all of these measures.

The RCMC-approved market risk governance standard ensures that the measurement, reporting, monitoring and management of market risk across the Bank follows a common governance framework.

Market risk categories

Market risk is categorised in four ways and as follows:

Trading book market risk

These risks result from the trading activities of the Bank where the primary focus is client facilitation in chosen markets. Trading activities comprise market making, arbitrage and proprietary trading, with the latter constituting a small proportion of trading revenues.

Interest rate risk in the banking book

These risks result from the different repricing characteristics of banking assets and liabilities. They include endowment risk, repricing risk, basis risk, optionality risk and yield curve risk.

Equity investments in the banking book

These risks result from price changes in listed and unlisted equity investments.

Foreign currency risk

The Bank's primary exposures to foreign currency risk arise as a result of the translation effect on foreign-denominated cash exposures and accruals.

Organisational structure and governance

ROC and the Board review and set the market risk governance standard annually in accordance with the Bank's stated risk appetite.

The market risk functions embedded in the business lines are independent of trading operations and accountable to ALCO. They are responsible for identifying, measuring, managing, controlling and reporting market risk as outlined in the market risk governance standard, with support from the central market risk function. The market risk functions also have the ability to set individual trader mandates.

Exposures and excesses are monitored and reported daily to business line and the Bank management, monthly to ALCO and quarterly to the ROC and the RCMC. Where breaches in limits and triggers occur, market risk functions monitor corrective actions to bring exposures back in line with approved market risk appetite, with such breaches being reported to management and ALCO.

Measurement and control techniques

The techniques used to measure and control trading book market risk and trading volatility include VaR, stop-loss triggers, stress tests, backtesting and specific business unit and product controls.

Trading book

Value at Risk (VaR)

The Bank uses the historical VaR simulation approach to derive quantitative measures, specifically for market risk under normal conditions. VaR is based on 251 days of unweighted historical data, a holding period of one day and a confidence interval of 95 per cent.

In general, the trading desks have run low levels of market risk throughout the year ended 31 December 2012, with average VaR being largely unchanged from 2011.

	Rm
2012
Commodities	35,3	11,6	22,6	13,8
Forex	13,2	3,3	6,3	9,6
Equities.....	38,0	9,7	16,7	11,8
Debt securities.....	2,9	0,4	2,0	1,8
Diversification benefit ²			(18,7)	(17,0)
Aggregate.....	42,0	16,6	29,0	20,0
2011
Commodities	4,8	0,8	1,9	1,4
Forex	11,2	1,9	4,7	4,8
Equities	24,9	8,2	15,7	20,3
Debt securities.....	45,2	11,0	18,9	24,0
Diversification benefit ²			(15,6)	(14,6)
Aggregate.....	44,0	15,6	25,6	35,9

¹ The maximum and minimum VaR figures reported for each market variable do not necessarily occur on the same day. As a result, the aggregate VaR will not equal the sum of the individual market VaR values, and it is inappropriate to ascribe a diversification effect to VaR when these values may occur on different dates.

² Diversification benefit is the benefit of measuring the VaR of the trading portfolio as a whole, that is, the difference between the sum of the individual VaRs and the VaR of the whole trading portfolio.

VaR models have been approved by the SARB for all trading desks except for the structured product desk and specific risk on interest rates. Where the Bank has received internal model approval, a VaR using a confidence level of 99 per cent, and a 10-day holding period is used to determine market risk regulatory capital.

There are various industry- and regulator- acknowledged limitations of historical VaR. These include:

1. The use of historical data as a proxy for estimating future events may not encompass all potential events, particularly those which are extreme in nature.
2. The use of a one-day holding period assumes that all positions can be liquidated or the risk offset in one day. This may not fully reflect the market risk arising at times of severe illiquidity, when a one-day holding period may be insufficient to liquidate or hedge all positions fully.
3. The use of a 95 per cent, confidence level, by definition, does not take into account losses that might occur beyond this level of confidence.
4. VaR is calculated on the basis of exposures outstanding at the close of business and therefore does not necessarily reflect intra-day exposures.
5. VaR is unlikely to reflect loss potential on exposures that only arise under significant market moves.

Stop-loss triggers

Stop-loss triggers are used to protect the profitability of the global markets trading desks, and refer to cumulative or daily trading losses that prompt a review or close-out of positions in the trading book. These are monitored by the market risk function on a daily basis.

Stress tests

In recognition of the limitations of VaR, stress testing provides an indication of the potential losses that could occur under extreme market conditions and where longer holding periods may be required to exit positions. The stress tests carried out by the Bank include individual market risk factor testing, combinations of market factors per trading desk and combinations of trading desks. Stress tests include a combination of historical, hypothetical and Monte Carlo-type simulations and provide senior management with an assessment of the financial impact that such events would have on the Bank's profit. The daily losses experienced during 2012 were within the stress loss scenarios.

Backtesting

The Bank back-tests its VaR models to verify the predictive ability of the VaR calculations and ensure the appropriateness of the models within the inherent limitations previously referred to. Backtesting compares the daily hypothetical profit and losses under the one-day buy and hold assumption to the prior day's VaR. In addition, VaR is tested by changing various parameters, such as confidence intervals and observation periods used in the model. In this manner, characteristics of the VaR model are captured to ensure the accuracy of the VaR measurement and the effectiveness of hedges and risk-mitigation instruments, again within the limitations previously referred to.

Regulators categorise a VaR model as green, amber or red and assign regulatory capital multipliers based on this categorisation. A green model is consistent with a satisfactory VaR model and is achieved for models that have four or less backtesting exceptions in a 12-month period. All the Bank's approved models were assigned green status by the SARB for the year ended 31 December 2012.

Specific business unit and product controls

Other market risk controls specific to individual business units include permissible instruments, concentration of exposures, gap limits, maximum tenure and stop loss triggers. In addition, only approved products that can be independently priced and properly processed are permitted to be traded. All VaR limits require prior approval from ALCO.

The independent central validation function validates all new pricing models and performs an annual review of existing models to ensure they are still relevant and behaving within expectations.

Interest rate risk in the banking book

The Banking book-related market risk exposure principally involves managing the potential adverse effect of interest rate movements on net interest income and the economic value of equity.

The Bank's approach to managing interest rate risk is governed by applicable laws and regulations, and is guided by international best practice and the competitive environment in which the Bank operates. The Banking book interest rate risk is monitored centrally by the Bank's TCM team with oversight by ALCO.

Interest rate risk measurement

The analytical techniques used to quantify banking book interest rate risk include both earnings- and valuation-based measures. Results are monitored on at least a monthly basis by ALCO. The analysis takes cognisance of embedded optionality such as loan prepayments and accounts where the account behaviour differs from the contractual position.

The results obtained from forward-looking dynamic scenario analyses, as well as Monte Carlo simulations, assist in developing optimal hedging strategies on a risk-adjusted return basis. Desired changes to a particular interest rate risk profile are achieved through the restructuring of on-balance sheet re-pricing and/or maturity profiles and, where appropriate, the use of derivative instruments.

Interest rate risk limits

Interest rate risk limits are set with respect to changes in forecasted net interest income and the economic value of equity. Economic value of equity sensitivity is calculated as the net present value of aggregate asset cash flows less the net present value of aggregate liability cash flows.

The re-pricing gaps for the Bank's non-trading portfolios before tax are shown in the table below as at 31 December 2012 and 31 December 2011:

		0-3 months	3-6 months	6-12 months	>12 months
2012 ¹
Interest rate sensitivity gap	Rm	25,238	4,522	1,525	(31,285)

Cumulative interest rate sensitivity gap as a percentage of total assets	%	2.2	3.6	4.2

All assets, liabilities and derivative instruments are allocated to gap intervals based on either their repricing or maturity characteristics. Assets and liabilities for which no identifiable contractual repricing or maturity dates exist are allocated to gap intervals based on management's judgement and statistical analysis.

Hedging of endowment risk

Interest rate risk in the banking book is predominantly the consequence of endowment exposures, being the net effect of non-rate sensitive assets less non-rate sensitive liabilities and equity. The endowment risk emanating from the anticipated downturn in the economic cycle is hedged as and when it is considered opportune, using bonds, fixed rate loans and derivative instruments such as swaps and interest rate swaptions. The interest rate view is formulated through the ALCO process, following meetings of the monetary policy committees, or market developments.

The residual non-endowment exposure, (basis, re-pricing, optionality and yield curve) is managed within the global markets portfolio.

Equity investments in the banking book

The equity risk committee, a sub-committee of ROC, approves investments in listed and unlisted entities in accordance with delegated authority limits. Periodic reviews and reassessments are undertaken on the performance of these investments.

The table below illustrates the market risk sensitivity as at 31 December 2012 and 31 December 2011 for all the Bank's non-trading equity investments assuming a 10 per cent. shift in the fair value. The analysis is shown before tax.

Foreign currency risk

The Bank's primary exposures to foreign currency risk arise as a result of the translation effect on the Bank's foreign-denominated debt and foreign-denominated cash exposures.

RCMC delegates the management of this risk to the net asset value currency risk management committee. This committee manages the risk in relation to the Bank according to existing legislation, South African exchange control regulations and accounting parameters. It takes into account naturally offsetting risk positions and manages the Bank's residual risk by means of forward exchange contracts, currency swaps and option contracts. Hedging is undertaken in such a way that it does not interfere with or constrain normal operational activities. The net asset value currency risk management committee meets regularly to reassess the hedging or diversification strategy in the event of changes in currency views.

Hedging of rand or foreign currency exposure is permitted only for planned, specific future investment-related cash flows.

Gains or losses on derivatives that have been designated as either net investment or cash flow hedging relationships are reported directly in other comprehensive income (OCI), with all other gains and losses on derivatives being reported in profit or loss.

Foreign currency risk sensitivity analysis

The foreign currency risk sensitivity analysis below reflects the expected financial impact, in rand equivalent, resulting from a 5 per cent. shock to foreign currency risk exposures, with respect to designated net investment hedges, other derivative financial instruments and foreign-denominated cash balances and accruals. The sensitivity analysis reflects the sensitivity to OCI and profit or loss on the Bank's foreign-denominated exposures other than those trading positions for which sensitivity has been included in the trading book VaR analysis.

The table below sets out the Bank's foreign currency risk sensitivity in ZAR equivalents as at 31 December 2012 and 31 December 2011. As indicated below, the absolute impact of a 5 per cent. change in foreign currency rates on the equity and/or profit or loss of the Bank before tax is R6 million (immaterial as at 31 December 2011).

OPERATIONAL RISK

Operational risk is the risk of loss resulting from inadequate or failed internal processes, people and systems, or from external events. Reputational risk and strategic risk are, in terms of general market convention, excluded from the definition of operational risk.

Operational risk exists in the natural course of business activity. It is not an objective to eliminate all exposure to operational risk as this would be neither commercially viable nor possible. The Bank's approach to managing operational risk is to adopt fit-for-purpose operational risk practices that assist business line management in understanding their inherent risk and reducing their risk profile in line with the Bank's risk appetite, while maximising their operational performance and efficiency.

The Bank has set minimum standards for managing operational risk through the operational risk governance standard.

The Bank obtained approval during 2013 to adopt the Advanced Measurement Approach for regulatory capital purposes.

The primary responsibility for managing operational risk forms part of the day-to-day responsibilities of management and employees at all levels. Business line management is ultimately responsible for owning and managing risks resulting from their activities. The risks are managed where they arise.

The operational risk management function is independent from business line management and is part of the second line of defence and is such that individual teams are dedicated to each business unit and enabling function. These teams are based alongside their business areas and facilitate the business's adoption of the operational risk framework. As part of the second line of defence, they also monitor and challenge the business units and enabling functions, such as Human Resources, Information Technology and Operations, on the appropriateness of their operational risk profile.

A central function, based at a group level, provides oversight and reporting. It is also responsible for developing and maintaining the operational risk management framework.

The primary oversight body for operational risk is the operational risk committee (ORC) which reports to ROC, the RCMC and ultimately the board. ORC is chaired by the head of operational risk and includes representation from group specialist functions and business units. ORC is also responsible for approving operational risk policies and methodologies.

Specialist functions are responsible for oversight of specific components of operational risk including legal, financial crime control, physical commodities management, information security and business continuity management.

The physical commodities management team is based in Johannesburg, London and Singapore and has been established to manage physical commodities transactions. The key role of the team is to focus on the risks embedded in each trade, on a pre- and post-trade basis, to ensure they are understood, tracked, controlled and escalated if appropriate. The team works with approved third parties such as shipbrokers, insurers, warehouse providers and security companies who play a key role in the process and the provision of related control functions.

Claims against the BESA Guarantee Fund Trust or the JSE Guarantee Fund, as applicable, may only be made in respect of the trading of Notes listed on the JSE and can in no way relate to a default by the Issuer of its obligations under the Notes listed on the JSE. Any claims against the BESA Guarantee Fund Trust or the JSE Guarantee Fund may only be made in accordance with the rules of the BESA Guarantee Fund Trust or the JSE Guarantee Fund, as applicable. Unlisted Notes are not regulated by the JSE.

SOUTH AFRICAN EXCHANGE CONTROL

Capitalised terms used in this section headed "South African Exchange Control" shall bear the same meanings as used in the Terms and Conditions, except to the extent that they are separately defined in this section or clearly inappropriate from the context.

The information below is intended as a general guide to the position under the Exchange Control Regulations as at the Programme Date. The contents of this section headed "South African Exchange Control" do not constitute exchange control advice and do not purport to describe all of the considerations that may be relevant to a prospective subscriber for or purchaser of any Notes. Prospective subscribers for or purchasers of any Notes should consult their professional advisers in this regard.

Non-South African resident Noteholders and emigrants from the Common Monetary Area

The issue of a particular Tranche of Notes may, depending on the type of Notes in that Tranche, require the prior written approval of the Exchange Control Authorities in terms of the Exchange Control Regulations. Dealings in the Notes and the performance by the Issuer of its obligations under the Notes and the applicable Terms and Conditions may be subject to the Exchange Control Regulations.

Emigrant Blocked Rand

Emigrant Blocked Rand may be used for the subscription for or purchase of Notes. Any amounts payable by the Issuer in respect of the Notes subscribed for or purchased with Emigrant Blocked Rand may not, in terms of the Exchange Control Regulations, be remitted out of South Africa or paid into any non-South African bank account.

Emigrants from the Common Monetary Area

Any Individual Certificates issued to Noteholders who are emigrants from the Common Monetary Area will be endorsed "non-resident". Such restrictively endorsed Individual Certificates shall be deposited with an authorised foreign exchange dealer controlling such emigrant's blocked assets.

In the event that a Beneficial Interest in Notes is held by an emigrant from the Common Monetary Area through the Central Depository, the securities account maintained for such emigrant by the relevant Participant will be designated as an "emigrant" account. All payments in respect of subscriptions for Notes by an emigrant from the Common Monetary Area, using Emigrant Blocked Rands, must be made through the Authorised Dealer in foreign exchange controlling the blocked assets.

Any payments of interest and/or principal due to a Noteholder who is an emigrant from the Common Monetary Area will be deposited into such emigrant Noteholder's Emigrant Blocked Rand account, as maintained by an authorised foreign exchange dealer. The amounts are not freely transferable from the Common Monetary Area and may only be dealt with in terms of the Exchange Control Regulations.

Non-residents of the Common Monetary Area

Any Individual Certificates issued to Noteholders who are not resident in the Common Monetary Area will be endorsed "non-resident". In the event that a Beneficial Interest in Notes is held by a non-resident of the Common Monetary Area through the Central Depository, the securities account for such Noteholder by the relevant Participant will be designated as a "non-resident" account.

It will be incumbent on any such non-resident Noteholder to instruct the non-resident's nominated or authorised dealer in foreign exchange as to how any funds due to such non-resident in respect of Notes are to be dealt with. Such funds may, in terms of the Exchange Control Regulations, be remitted abroad only if the relevant Notes are acquired with foreign currency introduced into South Africa and provided that the relevant Individual Certificate has been endorsed "non-resident" or the relevant securities account has been designated as a "non-resident" account, as the case may be.

Bearer Notes

The disposal or acquisition of or dealing in Bearer Notes is subject to the prior written approval of the Minister of Finance (or the Person authorised by the Minister of Finance) in accordance with Regulation 15 of the Exchange Control Regulations.

Order Notes

Any Order Notes issued to Noteholders who are emigrants from the Common Monetary Area will be endorsed in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Exchange Control Regulations. Any Order Notes issued to Noteholders who are emigrants from the Common Monetary Area will be subject to the applicable provisions of the Exchange Control Regulations.

Any Order Notes issued to Noteholders who are not resident in the Common Monetary Area will be endorsed in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Exchange Control Regulations. Any Order Notes issued to Noteholders who are not resident in the Common Monetary Area will be subject to the applicable provisions of the Exchange Control Regulations.

As at the Programme Date, no exchange control approval is required in respect of the Programme and/or the Notes.

SOUTH AFRICAN TAXATION

Capitalised terms used in this section headed "South African Taxation" shall bear the same meanings as used in the Terms and Conditions, except to the extent that they are separately defined in this section or clearly inappropriate from the context.

The comments below are intended as a general guide to the relevant tax laws of South Africa as at the Programme Date. The contents of this section headed "South African Taxation" do not constitute tax advice and do not purport to describe all of the considerations that may be relevant to a prospective subscriber for or purchaser of any Notes. Prospective subscribers for or purchasers of any Notes should consult their professional advisers in this regard.

Withholding Tax

Under current taxation law in South Africa, all payments made under the Notes to resident and non-resident Noteholders will be made free of withholding or deduction for or on account of any taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges in South Africa. However, legislation has been enacted introducing a withholding tax on South African sourced interest payments to foreign persons at a rate of 15%. It has been proposed that this withholding tax takes effect on 1 January 2015. The legislation exempts, inter alia, interest payments made by a bank in respect of any debt owed by such bank. It is envisaged that this exemption would apply to the interest payments made to Noteholders. A foreign person will also be exempt from the withholding tax on interest if that foreign person -

- (a) is a natural person who was physically present in South Africa for a period exceeding 183 days in aggregate during the twelve month period preceding the date on which the interest is paid; or
- (b) at any time during the twelve month period preceding the date on which the interest is paid carried on business through a permanent establishment in South Africa.

Such persons are subject to normal South African income tax on the interest sourced in South Africa unless exempted under Section 10(1)(h) of the Income Tax Act. Please refer to the section on Income Tax below.

In terms of the legislation, South African sourced interest that is paid to a foreign person in respect of any listed debt will be exempt from the withholding tax on interest. In terms of the legislation, a "listed debt" is a debt that is listed on a recognised exchange as defined in the Income Tax Act. The regulated market of the London Stock Exchange Plc is a recognised exchange.

Securities Transfer Tax (STT)

No STT is payable on the issue or transfer of Notes (bonds) under the Securities Transfer Tax Act, 2007, because they do not constitute securities for the purposes of that Act.

Value-Added Tax (VAT)

No VAT is payable on the issue or transfer of Notes. Notes (bonds) constitute "debt securities" as defined in section 2(2)(iii) of the South African Value-Added Tax Act, No. 89 of 1991. The issue, allotment, drawing, acceptance, endorsement or transfer of ownership of a debt security is a financial service, which is exempt from VAT in terms of section 12(a) of that Act.

Commissions, fees or similar charges raised for the facilitation of these services will however be subject to VAT at the standard rate (currently 14 per cent.), except where the recipient is a non-resident as contemplated below.

Services (including exempt financial services) rendered to non-residents who are not in South Africa when the services are rendered, are subject to VAT at the zero rate in terms of section 11(2)(l) of the South African Value-Added Tax Act, 1991.

Income Tax

Under current taxation law effective in South Africa a "resident" (as defined in section 1 of the Income Tax Act) is subject to income tax on his/her worldwide income. Accordingly, all Noteholders who are "residents" of South Africa will generally be liable to pay income tax, subject to available deductions, allowances and exemptions, on any interest earned pursuant to the Notes. Non residents of South Africa are subject to income tax on all income derived from a South African source (subject to domestic exemptions or relief in terms of an applicable double taxation treaty).

Interest income is from a South African source if that amount:

- (a) is attributable to an amount incurred by a person that is a resident, unless the interest is attributable to a permanent establishment which is situated outside of South Africa; or
- (b) is received or accrues in respect of the utilisation or application in South Africa by any person of any funds or credit obtained in terms of any form of interest-bearing arrangement.

Accordingly, the interest paid to the Noteholders will be from a South African source and subject to South African income tax unless such income is exempt under section 10(1)(h) of the Income Tax Act (see below).

Under section 10(1)(h) of the Income Tax Act interest received by or accruing to a Noteholder who, or which, is not a resident of South Africa during any year of assessment is exempt from income tax, unless that person:

- (a) is a natural person who was physically present in South Africa for a period exceeding 183 days in aggregate during the twelve month period preceding the date on which the interest is received by, or accrues to, that person; or
- (b) at any time during the twelve month period preceding the date on which the interest is received by, or accrues to, that person carried on business through a permanent establishment in South Africa.

If a Noteholder does not qualify for the exemption under Section 10(1)(h) of the Income Tax Act, exemption from, or reduction of any South African income tax liability may be available under an applicable double taxation treaty.

Purchasers are advised to consult their own professional advisers as to whether the interest income earned on the Notes will be exempt under section 10(1)(h) of the Income Tax Act.

Under section 24J of the Income Tax Act, any discount or premium to the Nominal Amount of a Note is treated as part of the interest income on the Note. Section 24J of the Income Tax Act deems interest income to accrue to a Noteholder on a day to-day basis until that Noteholder disposes of the Note or until maturity unless an election has been made by the Noteholder (if the Noteholder is entitled under Section 24J(9) of the Income Tax Act to make such election) to treat its Notes on a mark to market basis. This day to day basis accrual is determined by calculating the yield to maturity and applying it to the capital involved for the relevant tax period. Interest as defined in section 24J of the Income Tax Act (including the premium or discount) may qualify for the exemption under section 10(1)(h) of the Income Tax Act.

Specific provisions dealing with the fair value taxation of financial instruments for certain covered persons have been promulgated and will apply from 1 January 2014. Noteholders should seek advice as to whether these amendments, once promulgated may apply to them.

The tax treatment of subordinated notes where the issuer has no obligation to make interest and/or capital payments, the proceeds of which qualify as primary share capital may differ from the section 24J treatment noted above.

To the extent the disposal of the Note gives rise to a gain or a loss, the normal principles are to be applied in determining whether such gain or loss should be subject to income tax in terms of the Income Tax Act.

Capital Gains Tax

Capital gains and losses of residents of South Africa on the disposal of Notes are subject to capital gains tax. Any discount or premium on acquisition which has already been treated as interest for income tax purposes, under section 24J of the Income Tax Act will not be taken into account when determining any capital gain or loss. Under section 24J(4A) of the Income Tax Act a loss on disposal will, to the extent that it has previously been included in taxable income (as interest), be allowed as a deduction from the taxable income of the holder when it is incurred and accordingly will not give rise to a capital loss.

Capital gains tax under the Eighth Schedule to the Income Tax Act will not be levied in relation to Notes disposed of by a person who is not a resident of South Africa unless the Notes disposed of are attributable to a permanent establishment of that person.

Purchasers are advised to consult their own professional advisers as to whether a disposal of Notes will result in a liability to capital gains tax.

Definition of Interest

The references to "interest" above mean "interest" as understood in South African tax law. The statements above do not take any account of any different definitions of "interest" or "principal" which may prevail under any other law or which may be created by the Terms and Conditions of the Notes or any related documentation.

SUBSCRIPTION AND SALE

Capitalised terms used in this section headed "Subscription and Sale" shall bear the same meanings as used in the Terms and Conditions, except to the extent that they are separately defined in this section or clearly inappropriate from the context.

Selling restrictions

South Africa

Each Dealer has (or will have) represented, warranted and agreed that it (i) will not offer Notes for subscription, (ii) will not solicit any offers for subscription for or sale of the Notes, and (iii) will itself not sell or offer the Notes in South Africa in contravention of the Companies Act, Banks Act, Exchange Control Regulations and/or any other Applicable Laws and regulations of South Africa in force from time to time.

Prior to the issue of any Tranche of Notes under the Programme, each Dealer who has (or will have) agreed to place that Tranche of Notes will be required to represent and agree that it will not make an "offer to the public" (as such expression is defined in the Companies Act, and which expression includes any section of the public) of Notes (whether for subscription, purchase or sale) in South Africa. This Programme Memorandum does not, nor is it intended to, constitute a prospectus prepared and registered under the Companies Act.

Offers not deemed to be offers to the public

Offers for subscription for, or sale of, Notes are not deemed to be an offer to the public if:

- (a) to certain investors contemplated in section 96(1)(a) of the Companies Act; or
- (b) the total contemplated acquisition cost of Notes, for any single addressee acting as principal, is equal to or greater than ZAR1 000 000, or such higher amount as may be promulgated by notice in the Government Gazette of South Africa pursuant to section 96(2)(a) of the Companies Act.

Information made available in this Programme Memorandum should not be considered as "advice" as defined in the Financial Advisory and Intermediary Services Act, 2002.

The issue of a particular Tranche of Notes may, depending on the type of Notes in that Tranche, require the prior written approval of the Exchange Control Authorities in terms of the Exchange Control Regulations (see the section of this Programme Memorandum headed "South African Exchange Control").

United States of America

Regulation S Category 2

The Notes have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act and may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons except in certain transactions exempt from, or not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by Regulation S under the Securities Act.

The Notes are subject to U.S. tax law requirements and may not be offered, sold or delivered within the United States or its possessions or to a United States person, except in certain transactions permitted by U.S. tax regulations. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by the United States Internal Revenue Code and regulations thereunder.

Each Dealer has agreed that, except as permitted by the Dealer Agreement, it will not offer, sell or deliver Notes, (i) as part of their distribution at any time or (ii) otherwise until 40 days after the completion of the distribution of the Notes comprising the relevant Tranche, as certified to the Issuer by such Dealer (or, in the case of a sale of a Tranche of Notes to or through more than one Dealer, by each of such Dealers as to the Notes of such Tranche purchased by or through it, in which case the Issuer shall notify each such Dealer when all such Dealers have so certified) within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons, and such Dealer and its affiliates will have sent to each dealer to which it sells Notes during the distribution compliance period relating thereto a confirmation or other notice setting forth the restrictions on offers and sales of the Notes within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons.

In addition, until 40 days after the commencement of the offering of Notes comprising any Tranche, any offer or sale of Notes within the United States by any dealer (whether or not participating in the offering) may violate the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

European Economic Area

In relation to each Member State of the European Economic Area which has implemented the Prospectus Directive (each, a Relevant Member State), each Dealer has represented, warranted and agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to represent, warrant and agree, that with effect from and including the date on which the Prospectus Directive is implemented in that Relevant Member State (the Relevant Implementation Date) it has not made and will not make an offer of Notes which are the subject of the offering contemplated by the Prospectus as completed by the Applicable Pricing Supplement in relation thereto to the public in that Relevant Member State except that it may, with effect from and including the Relevant Implementation Date, make an offer of such Notes to the public in that Relevant Member State :

- (a) Approved prospectus: if the Applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to the Notes specifies that an offer of those Notes may be made other than pursuant to Article 3(2) of the Prospectus Directive in that Relevant Member State (a Non-exempt Offer), following the date of publication of a prospectus in relation to such Notes which has been approved by the competent authority in that Relevant Member State or, where appropriate, approved in another Relevant Member State and notified to the competent authority in that Relevant Member State, provided that any such prospectus which has subsequently been completed by the Final Terms contemplating such Non-exempt Offer, in accordance with the Prospectus Directive, in the period beginning and ending on the dates specified in such prospectus or Applicable Pricing Supplement, as applicable and the Issuer has consented in writing to its use for the purpose of that Non-exempt Offer;
- (b) Qualified investors: at any time to any legal entity which is a qualified investor as defined in the Prospectus Directive;
- (c) Fewer than 100 offerees: at any time to fewer than 100 or, if the Relevant Member State has implemented the relevant provision of the 2010 PD Amending Directive, 150, natural or legal persons (other than qualified investors as defined in the Prospectus Directive) subject to obtaining the prior consent of the relevant Dealer or Dealers nominated by the Issuer for any such offer; or
- (d) Other exempt offers: at any time in any other circumstances falling within Article 3(2) of the Prospectus Directive; provided that no such offer of Notes referred to in (b) to (d) above shall require the Issuer or any Dealer to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Directive or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 16 of the Prospectus Directive.
